CORRECTION.—“Union's Best Farmer,” (which is supposed to mean Mr. James Montgomery) alluded to in a former number of the REVIEW in a certain transaction, desires us to say that he got “no 45cts. 50cts. nor 38cts. per lb., for wool sold to Mr. Bump, as our article expressed it. He did sell two sacks of cleansed wool to Mr. Payne for 45 and 50cts. per lb.” The item was made upon information of parties connected with the market, and wherein we have placed Mr.
Montgomery unfavorably before the community and we unhesitatingly make the correction. We have not room for further explanation this week.

The Sons of Temperance is a new candidate for public favor before the temperance community. It is published semi-monthly at Racine, by Wm. R. Bloomfield, Grand Worthy Patriarch of the Sons of Temperance. It is a staunch temperance paper, neatly printed and ably edited. The temperance people of Wisconsin ought to rally to its support, and put it on a good paying basis at once.

—Mr. Trace Montgomery came into our office Thursday, afflicted as much as patient old Job was. He had several of the rank comforters upon his limbs, which made a stout, heavy walking stick of actual necessity for his locomotions. Such "blessing" were testing his physical endurance to the expense of considerable flesh, just at this time, Mr. M. stated that the late rain had prostrated corn badly over his way.
