

Mr. Van Wormer has sold his draying business to Mr. Aphel. The former is now canvassing business men on the street with a view of going into the street sprinkling.

May 22, 1885, Evansville Review, p. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

—Mr. Ballard did a very nice thing Saturday—raked all the loose stones and rubbish on Main Street into little heaps and then got Frank Apful and his team to haul it off to fill some low spots about the bridge. The street now is level and smooth as a trotting park. This last item is not a suggestion to fast horse-men.

July 17, 1885, Evansville

Review, p. 4, col. 32, Evansville, Wisconsin

Center township 1891 (Cath. Apfel in section 18, Southeast quarter)

—Miss Sadie Apfel, who has been visiting at her home for the past month, returns to Rockford to-day where she is employed in a large factory.

October 26, 1893, Enterprise, p. 4, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

MARRIED--At the home of the bride Miss Lucy Apfel and Mr. William Kitz at high noon Thursday, November 8, by the Rev. Detert. There were about seventy-five guests present to take part in the festivities and partake of the bountiful repast. The young couple expect to reside on a farm near the city.

November 10, 1894, Badger, p. 6, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin
 (Note: the grooms last name is Kuelz)

Mr. S. E. Barnard having recently sold his house to Henry Apfel of Porter, vacated Wednesday by moving into the David Smith house. Mr. Barnard expects to build this spring if he finds a location that suits him.

March 18, 1899, The Badger, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Mike Holden has moved to the Henry Apfel farm recently purchased by Mr. Wm. Stevens. He now farms half a section.

March 25, 1899, The Badger, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

May 26 1900

Chas. D. ll, May 24; vacation l leave gelistic wife are it with joining	Hymen Married :-By Rev. W. W. Stevens at his home in Janesville, Wednesday afternoon, May 23, 1900 Miss Emma Apfel and Mr. Clarence Bullard, both of this city. The happy couple were attend- ed by Miss Alice Libby and Chas Weaver also of this place. They will spend the week vis- iting relatives at Rockford and Chicago and return to make Evansville their home. They have the best wishes of a large circle of friends.	A s tinel, pape Mem ed; e whic read Th of th Befo th on
--	--	--

May 26, 1900, The Badger, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

e of tors is a city tors stuited in-the ome nes. will At W. day ner-

Mr. gau ner.

how the arge dies cing the on end
the Accident Befalls Louis Apfel.

Last Monday about two o'clock Louis Apfel went to a field about a mile north of this city to get corn stalks off the land which he worked the past season. To get to the field it was necessary for him to pass through a lane that leads from the highway and then open a gate. He jumped from the wagon and was about to open the gate when he suddenly became unconscious and fell. He lay in this condition unable to move until after five o'clock when a gentleman coming out of the field found him and brought him to his home on S. Madison St. The unfortunate man was stiff with the cold but with the aid of a physician and tender nursing he was after several hours restored to consciousness and at present he is convalescent. While he lay at the entrance of the field his team grazed and the wagon wheel just missed his head. It was indeed a narrow escape with life. The cause of the swoon is unknown.

November 17, 1900, The Badger, p. 1, col. 5,

Evansville, Wisconsin

Louis Apfel has purchased forty acres of the Williams farm between this city and Union. He has begun moving his machinery to that place.

February 9, 1901, The Badger, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Another Crossing Accident

Evansville, at the Close of the year, Adds to the List.

Sunday evening, Mrs. Catherine Apfel, her grand-daughter, Miss Mary Lovell, and Edward Wood were on their way from the home of Al. Smith to church, when they were run over at the North Madison street crossing by No. 504, the south bound evening passenger.

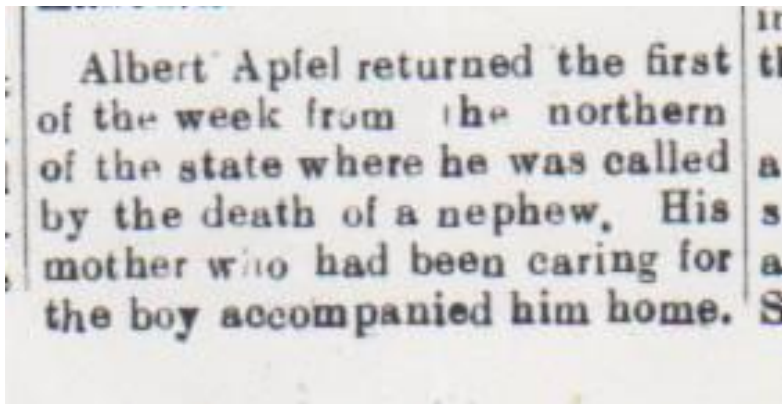

The train is due here at 6:30, but being delayed by heavy holiday traffic was trying to make up time and came down at high rate of speed. The occupants of the carriage supposing the train had gone, were unconcerned about the track ahead of them. The carriage curtains were closely drawn and they had no intimation that anything was wrong until the horse began to run. He was held in but even then got his load over except fourteen inches of the rear wheels which the pilot struck with full force. The occupants were hurled out; Mrs. Apfel was picked up about sixty feet from the crossing, dead. Miss Lovell was found insensible with her skull badly crushed, and is now lying in a serious condition at Mrs. Apfel's home. Mr. Wood, who is at the home of Dr. Evans, was the least injured of the three, and it is hoped he will recover.

The accident was instantly discovered by the trainmen and as soon as possible the train was backed up and the injured taken on board and brought to the station. It so happened that Dr. C. M. Smith, Jr., and wife were on the train, returning from their Christmas visit, and rendered invaluable and immediate service to the injured.

This accident recalls the similar one causing the death of Mr. Thaddeus York, and of the dual tragedy at Footville, not long since, when Miss Silverthorne and Mrs. Snyder were run over.

We believe provision ought to be made, if not by the railroads or by the state for either flagmen at all such crossings or for automatic guards such as are used in the larger cities.

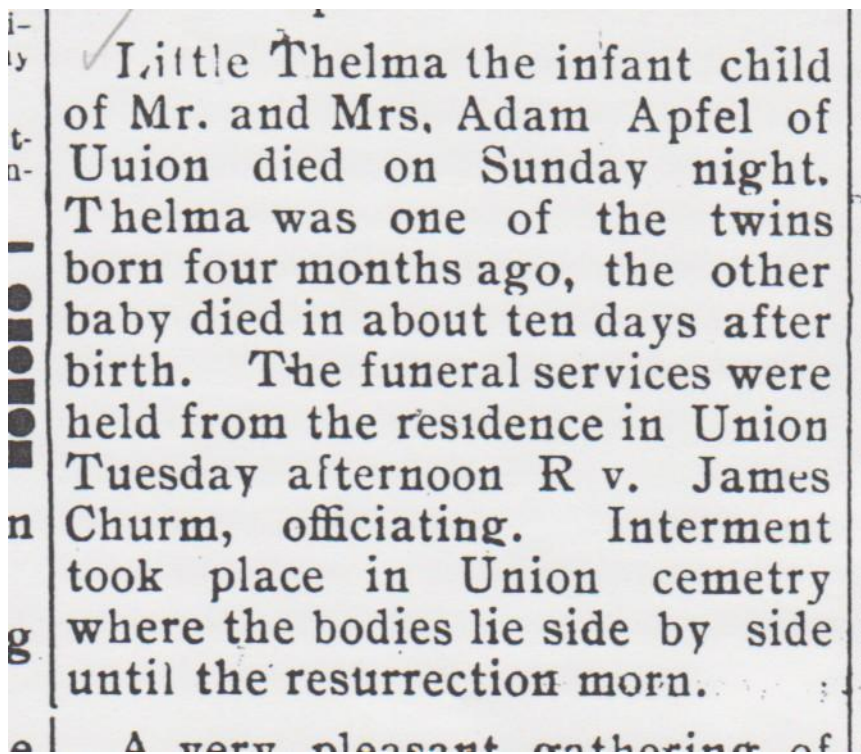

Mrs. H. Apfel is assisting in the care of a grandson in the northern part of the state, who is dangerous ill.
August 11, 1905, Enterprise, p. 3, col. 6, Evansville, Wisconsin

Albert Apfel returned the first of the week from the northern part of the state where he was called by the death of a nephew. His mother who had been caring for the boy accompanied him home. S

August 19, 1905, The Badger, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

John C. Apfel sold his home on Maple Avenue to Amos Shaw, Tuesday. March 3, 1906, Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin

Little Thelma the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Apfel of Union died on Sunday night. Thelma was one of the twins born four months ago, the other baby died in about ten days after birth. The funeral services were held from the residence in Union Tuesday afternoon R v. James Churm, officiating. Interment took place in Union cemetery where the bodies lie side by side until the resurrection morn.

A Good and Meritorious Deed.

About twenty of our able-bodied young men went into the tobacco field of Walter Apfel, Saturday, and harvested his entire crop.

For some time Mr. Apfel has been quite sick, and therefore not able to attend the harvesting of his crop. Knowing his condition the above number of friends assembled as stated and by night the crop was carefully housed.

Such kindness as this is what counts in the make-up of humanity, and no one is better pleased nor more thankful than Mr. Apfel himself.

n c e E a w p M p re w is

September 13, 1906, Evansville

Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Charles Apfel is having an auction sale at his home in the country today and the first of March will move into town, having rented the William Garfield house on North Main Street.

February 24, 1909, p. 2, Janesville Daily Gazette, "Evansville" news, - note that North Main Street is now North Fourth Street.

Grant Haney has purchased a house and lot on Almeron Street from John Apfel, and expects to move to the city about the first of March. The house is now occupied by Henry Dixon and wife.

January 26, 1910, The Enterprise and the Tribune, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

ACCIDENT

Henry Apfel who is employed in the hardware store of F. A. Baker & Co. met with an accident Friday afternoon which will disable him from work for some little time.

At his home on West Liberty street the cistern is contained within the woodshed, and his mother, Mrs. Apfel, thinking to air the cistern, took the cover off temporarily, and Mr. Apfel in his search for a drill accidentally stepped into the opening. Realizing his predicament he threw out his left hand to save himself, thrusting his arm thro a near-by window and cutting a severe gash in his wrist and severing one of the muscles.

Five stitches were taken by the surgeon and Mr. Apfel will be obliged to carry his arm in a sling for a while and keep his fingers still to allow the healing process to go on undisturbed.

July 27, 1911, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 1,

Evansville, Wisconsin

of the week.
Henry Apfel of West Liberty street lost a valuable mare one day last week from lockjaw. He cannot account for the disease, but thinks the animal may have gotten a nail in her foot, but there was no evidence of lameness and the cause is something of a mystery. The best veterinary skill was employed, but the horse could not be saved. Mr. Apfel would not have taken $200 for the mare.
A cold wave bounded out of the north Sunday evening, the wind blowing a gale, and by Monday morning the effects of the change was apparent in blue noses and extra clothing. Some people built fires in their offices and homes, and everyone felt the sunshine was a good thing to get into. A few days since and the heat was excessive and the radical transition Monday was considered remarkable in the way of weather contrast.

August 3, 1911, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 3,

Evansville, Wisconsin

Stoughton.
J. C. Apfel went to Belvidere, Ill. Friday night to see his sister Mrs. Chas. Sanners, who had the misfortune recently to break her leg. She is getting along fairly well, and it is hoped she will come out all right. Mr. Apfel returned Sunday night.

November 9, 1911, Evansville Review, Evansville,

Wisconsin

The truant officer, John Apfel, is looking after all those children under 14 years of age who do not attend school. The law is plain on this point and requires the school attendance of children under 14 years of age, and also that children over 14 and under 16, who are not steadily employed must likewise go to school. The law must be obeyed, and the truant officer in the pursuit of his duty will compel all parents to comply with the provisions of the law. If your children are of school age see that they go to school and thus assist in the work of bettering the community and benefiting the child.

December 21, 1911, Evansville Review, Evansville,

Wisconsin

John Apfel, janitor at the city school buildings was absent Monday and Professor Waddell who undertook the janitor's work for the day found himself a very busy man.

May 3, 1912, Janesville Weekly Gazette, Janesville, Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Aptel announce the birth of a baby boy.

January 16, 1913, p. 5, col. 1, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

John Apfel will offer his house on Maple avenue for sale at public auction Saturday at 2 o'clock. Dan Finnane will be the auctioneer.

October 28, 1915, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

BOY INJURED

Perry Apfel, about eleven years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Apfel, of East Main street, was found unconscious in the street near the Apfel home about noon Saturday. Examination revealed a gash about two inches long in the back of the youth's head, which caused a concussion of the brain. He remained unconscious until one o'clock Sunday morning, when he rallied and is now getting along satisfactorily. It is thought the boy had been "stealing a ride" on some wagon and had fallen off, as he and his playmates frequently hung on to the end of wagons that passed his house.

the 10 ser ser
Pr
Pe Co an

p. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

November 30, 1916, Evansville Review,

Mr. and Mrs. Apfel and Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, of Vernon county; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sawyer, of Beloit, and Herman Schroeder, of Marshall, Minn., were called here by the illness and death of their mother, the late Mrs. Lena Schroeder.

February 1, 1917, Evansville Review, "Center" township news, Evansville, Wisconsin

Louis Apfel has moved into the house on Maple street that he recently purchased of John Apfel.
May 3, 1917, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Apfel and son are the guests of Charles Apfel and family, at Cameron, Wis.
September 10, 1917, p. 6, Janesville Daily Gazette, "Evansville New" Janesville, Wisconsin

The out of town relatives and friends called here by the death of Mrs. Fredericka Apfel were Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, Marshall, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. John Apfel, Neillsville, Wis.; Charles Apfel, Cameron, Wis.; George Apfel, son, Stanley, and daughter, Zoe, Dell, Wis.; Mrs. Lena Long and Mrs. Eila Sawyer, Will Apfel and son, Karl, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Apfel, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Apfel, Beloit; Mr. and Mrs. Will Kueltz and family, Fellows Station; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grunzle, Henry Apfel, Mrs. Elmer Townsend, Charles Schroeder, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Apful, and Miss Anna Nightingale, Janesville; George Schroeder, Lew Schroeder, August Schroeder, Milwaukee; Mrs. Clarence Bullard, Madison; Mrs. August Buetow, Milton.

March 3, 1920, "Evansville News" Janesville Daily Gazette, Janesville, Wisconsin, p. 2,

MRS. FREDERIKA L. APFEL ✓
 Mrs. Frederika L. Apfel was born in Mackleburger, Sparine, Germany, in the year 1838. She came to America in 1857. Was married in Milwaukee in the year 1860 to Henry Apfel and came to Center, Rock county, in the same year and resided there until the year 1899, when they moved to this city. The same year the husband passed to the world beyond. Ten children were born to them seven boys and three girls of which all survive her. Lew and Albert of this city, Mrs. Rosa Miller of Marshall, Minn., Will of Beloit, John of Neillsville, George of Dell, Mrs. Lucy Knelz of Fellows, Charles of Cameron, Mrs. Charles Miller of Larifore, North Dakota and Henry of Janesville. There are 33 grandchildren and 3 great gradchildren.
 e Funeral services were held at the Congregational church Monday afternoon, Rev. Smith officiating. Interment was at Maple Hill cemetery.

Bir Sta
 Schl In
 -
 Joy
 Th
 Me Sn El Fl
 W
 So
 Th
 Da
 .
 Ar
 Ca
 Th
 .
 O
 G

March 4, 1920, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville,

Wisconsin

Albert Apfel was born in Rock County, April 3, 1874, in early life making his home in the town of Porter.

February 13, 1902 he was united in marriage to Miss Amelia Buetow, of the Town of Center. To this union five children were born, one dying in infancy.

He was a trusted employee of the Baker Manufacturing Company for the past twenty-two years, until several months ago, when ill health forced him to retire; gradually growing worse from day to day. Mr. Apfel passed away, Monday December 20.

Mr. Apfel was a man universally respected by all who knew him, being a man of exceptional industrious habits. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen and the Woodmen of the World.

Funeral services at the home Wednesday at 2:00 p.m. Rev. F. P. Hanaman, officiating, interment being in Maple Hill Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife and four children, Lloyd, Minnie, Lindle and Maurice; three sisters, Mrs. Lucy Kueltz, Center; Mrs. Rose Miller, Marshall, Minn., and Mrs. Minnie Miller, Laramore, N. D.; six brothers, Will, Center; Lewis, Evansville; Henry, Laramore; John, Neilsville; George, Westby, Wis., and Charles, Chetek.

December 25, 1924, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Notice to Creditors

Notice is hereby given, That at a special term of the County Court for Rock County, Wisconsin, to be held at the Court House in Janesville, on July 14, 1925, at nine o'clock A. M., all claims against Albert Apfel late of Evansville, Rock County, Wisconsin, will be examined and adjusted.

All claims must be filed in said Court on or before June 3rd, 1925, or be barred.

Dated February 3rd, 1925. 2-5-3

By the Court:

Charles L. Fifield, County Judge.

R. M. Richmond, Attorney.

February 19, 1925, Evansville Review, p. 6, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

OBITUARY

Louis Apfel

Louis Apfel, 66, died Monday at 2 a. m. in his home on Maple Ave. after several weeks illness.

Mr. Apfel was born Sept 26, 1861 in Magnolia where he grew to manhood. On February 28 1894 he married Miss Anna Frusher, Janesville. They lived on a farm near Footville until eight years ago they moved to this city.

Besides his widow Mr. Apfel is survived by three sisters, Mrs Charles Miller, Larrimore, N. D. Mrs. Lucy Kueltz, this city; Mrs. William Miller Marshall; Minn.; five brothers John Apfel, Neillsville; Charles Rice Lake; Henry and Geo. Westby, Wis.,; and William of this city.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday with the Rev. Henry Williams Trinity Episcopal church Janesville, officating. Mrs. William Bewick sang. A brief service was given in the home at one P. M. Burial in Janesville.

a sl
o: w fo B

S F o
s c v b s c i e
:

February 16, 1928, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 3,

OBITUARY

Mrs. William Thompson

After a sickness lasting but two weeks, Mrs. William Thompson, aged 68, died at her home on Almeron St., Monday morning.

Mrs. Thompson was born in the Town of Center, where she grew to young womanhood, being united in marriage to William Thompson November 22, 1879, they making their home in the town of Magnolia for several years. Later they moved to this city where they have since made their home.

Mrs. Thompson is the mother of five children, three sons, Ray Robert and Harry, and two daughters, Mrs. Francis Davis and Mrs. Bessie Jones. She is survived by 14 grandchildren; two great grandchildren; five sisters, Mrs. Albert Smith, Douglas, Wyo.; Mrs. Russell Thompson, Oregon; Mrs. Harry Kingsley and Mrs. Charles Sanner, Rockford; Mrs. Clarence Bullard, Madison; three brothers, Adam Apfel, St. Paul, Minn.; John, Evansville; Walter, Milwaukee. Mr. Thompson died May 8, 1926 and a daughter and son died in infancy.

The deceased was a member of the Methodist Church, the Royal Neighbors, Woman's Relief Corps and Beavers and was a woman who had, by her interest in church and lodge matters made many friends who will greatly regret her death.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the home, the Rev. G. C. Saunderson officiating. Burial was in Maple Hill Cemetery.

is ic rs d. pok all r-L is rich in is [r. air ig 5 are ordinarily printed in columns

32 RELATIVES AT FAMILY DINNER

Mrs. Amelia Apfel, 249 East Main street, entertained 32 relatives at a Christmas dinner last Thursday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. August Buetow, Henry Dorn, Mr. and Mrs. Sim Dorn and son, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grunzel and son, Mr. and Mrs. John Grunzel, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hoge, Mr. and Mrs. William Becker and family, and the Misses Flora and Mabel Wegner, Janesville; and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Apfel and family, this city.

The entertainment feature of the day was card playing at which prizes were awarded to August Beutow, Mrs. Sim Dorn, Miss Flora Wegner, and Henry Grunzel.

January 1, 1931, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 7, Evansville,

Wisconsin

2 TILTS SCHEDULED FOR LOCAL Y TEAM

The basketball team of the Evansville Young Men's club, managed by Keith Williams has scheduled two games for the week-end of Jan. 28 and 29, it was announced today.

The team will clash with a city quintet at Viola, Wis., on Saturday night and will meet the Elroy Royals at Elroy on Sunday afternoon. The lineup of the local quintet will include Maurice Apfel, La Vern Ringhand, Horace Reynolds, Herbert Blum, Willis Wilson, and Dick Williams.

vis
ch
wh sis ser ass vis po pe wo he wh at al ro th se po
th

January 19, 1933, Evansville Review, p. 8, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin