

Resolutions of Respect.

At a regular meeting of Janesville Commandery No. 2, Knights Templar, held June 25th, 1885, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Almighty Ruler of Heaven and earth to remove our late friend and Frater from our midst, and whereas, silence would seem almost a fitting tribute to his memory, yet we cannot but give in some form our recognition of his many virtues as a man and a Mason, Therefore

Resolved, That while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn for our brother, who has been taken from us.

Resolved, That in the death of A. W. Baldwin this commandery and the Masonic fraternity has sustained a loss we shall ever lament. As a brother and companion he was ever ready to proffer the hands of aid, and the voice of sympathy to the needy and distressed of the fraternity. As an active member of every order of Masonry, his utmost endeavors were exerted for its welfare and prosperity, and as a citizen, his upright and noble life was a standard for emulation to all his fellows.

Resolved, That the heart-felt sympathy of the members of this commandery be extended to his family in their affliction, and that these resolutions be spread upon the records of this commandery and a copy thereof be transmitted to the family of our deceased Frater, and to each of the newspapers of Rock county.

Resolved, That our arylum be draped in mourning for the period of three months.

J. M. EVANS,
FENNER KIMBALL,
J. C. METCALF.

July 7, 1885, Enterprise, p. 4, col. 4,

Evansville, Wisconsin

Prof. J. Coleman was called Wednesday evening, February 10th, to Brooklyn to consummate the nuptial ceremony of making Mr. Zela Baldwin and Miss Nora Haynes husband and wife.

Both parties were former students of the Seminary and among Mr. Coleman's choice young friends. The wedding was held quietly at the home of the bride and was concluded with an excellent repast, and Mr. Coleman says it was a most enjoyable occasion for the clergyman as well as the bride and groom, the parents and friends.

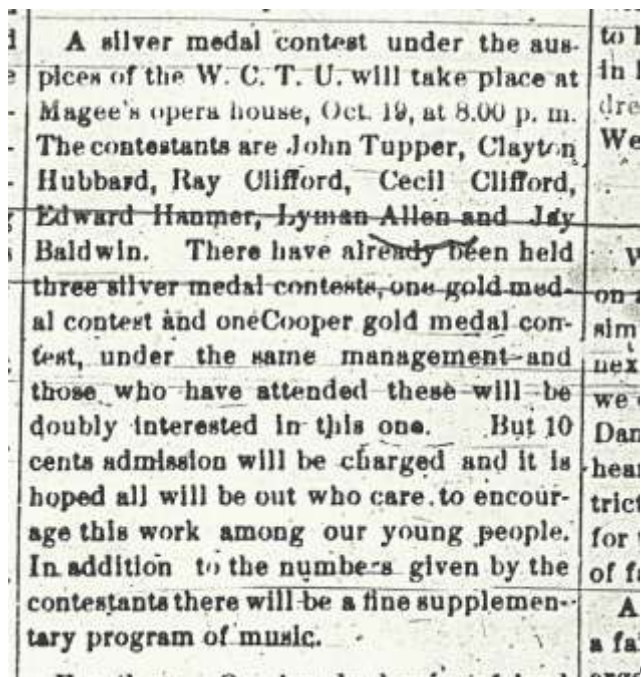

February 16, 1892, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Commencement will be held on the Seminary campus, Tuesday, June 6. The graduates are Bert Biglow, Henry Wolfe, May Wadsworth, and Jennie Baldwin.

May 23, 1893, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

The following named students graduate at the Seminary next Tuesday; Wm. W. Loomis, Nettie J. Rickey, Evaline Dryer, Nora F. Adams, Claude J. Henricks, Eunice Budd, Jay B. Baldwin, Arthur J. Damon, Bert Campbell, Dean Dutton, Charles F. Hammer, J. Claud Conrad, James M. Robb, and Bessie Baker.

June 1, 1894, The Tribune, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

A silver medal contest under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. will take place at Magee's opera house, Oct. 19, at 8.00 p. m. The contestants are John Tupper, Clayton Hubbard, Ray Cliford, Cecil Cliford, Edward Hammer, Lyman Allen and Jay Baldwin. There have already been held three silver medal contests, one gold medal contest and one Cooper gold medal contest, under the same management and those who have attended these will be doubly interested in this one. But 10 cents admission will be charged and it is hoped all will be out who care to encourage this work among our young people. In addition to the numbers given by the contestants there will be a fine supplementary program of music.

October 13, 1894, The Badger, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville,

Wisconsin

Mrs. Nora Baldwin, wife of Zala Baldwin, won the prize at the Silver Medal Contest at Brooklyn Friday evening. The judges were Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Richmond and Miss Marilla Andrews of this city.

November 23, 1894, The Enterprise, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Daisy Baldwin commenced a three months term of school this week at Butt's corners.

December 21, 1894, The Enterprise, p. 1, col. 7, "Brooklyn" news, Evansville, Wisconsin

A dancing party was given at Boyd Baldwin's Friday evening. Mason Bros. Furnished the music. A number from here as well as some from Evansville and Oregon were in attendance.

December 21, 1894, The Enterprise, p. 1, col. 7, "Brooklyn" news, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Jay Baldwin a graduate of the Seminary is now attending the High School.

January 12, 1895, The Badger, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Hatfield-Baldwin.

MARRIED:—At the home of the bride in this city, Mr. Fred W. Hatfield and Miss Jennie Baldwin, by the Rev. J. Scott Davis.

An attractive, quiet wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Baldwin in this city, last Tuesday evening. Guests to the number of sixty, nearly all of whom were relatives, gathered to witness the ceremony, and at about eight o'clock the wedding march, played by Leon Patterson, announced the approach of the bridal party. Miss Mildred Wadsworth, a classmate of the bride's, was maid of honor, and Mr. Bert Campbell was best man. The bride was dressed in shell pink faille and carried white roses. Miss Wadsworth wore white and carried American Beauty roses.

It is unusual to see so large a company as met at this time, all relatives. Mrs. Baldwin's maiden name was Sawin, and with a very few exceptions, all the guests were either members of her immediate family, or children of her brothers and sisters.

The ceremony finished, an elaborate supper was served. Many beautiful gifts were taken to the young couple and after another round of congratulations, the guests said goodnight.

Mr. Hatfield is the youngest son of one of Evansville's most substantial citizens, W. H. Hatfield, and is regarded as one of our most energetic young business men. He is the proprietor of the Hatfield grocery.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatfield will live in Mrs. Howard's house on Third street.

April 20, 1895, The Badger, p. 1, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Jay Baldwin returned to the U. W. Thursday.

January 4, 1896, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville Wisconsin

Jay Baldwin, Bert Campbell and Claude Hendrick Sundayed at home.

The Tribune, p. 1, col. 2, March 17, 1896, Evansville, Wisconsin

AT THE UNIVERSITY,

Honors Won by Evansville Boy.

Military drill is required of a student for two years, at the University and each year, after the freshmen have been thoroughly taught the manual of arms. they are put through a competition drill and those making the best showing are selected as officers of the battalion.

Last week the annual drill was held and as a result, Mr. Jay Baldwin, was selected as one of the Corporals. He is the first student from Evansville to receive military honors.

Lectured Before the Professors.

At the meeting of the Physical Journal club, Thursday, Mr. Geo. W. Wilder '96, completed his lecture on Theory of Halos, Coronas and other similar phenomenae, before a large and interested audience. Coronas are the small concentric circles encompassing the disk of the sun or moon and are caused by the diffraction of light among water-drops suspended in the atmosphere. Coronas are of variegated colors, while halos are the large, white circles about the sun or moon, commonly called "rings around the sun."

He also treated on the subject of "sundogs and special phenomenae." At the close of the lecture a lively discussion was opened by Prof. Snow and participated in by many other professors.

A Foxwell Bangsat.

Mrs. Sall first of the length of t

John Da visited at l is a niece c

John O'M
of Oregon,
Hugh Byri

It is rep has traded in Brookly

Al. Huds
ings from
J. S. Bell's
a paint sho

"A miss is a Chica eral miles.

On the r not show.
have an in

There is a sucker b see proyen

The ba the dust of newspaper

Chicago
ing water enough wh taste.

What di

April 7, 1896, The Tribune, p. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Albert Sawin and Jay Baldwin returned to the University Monday for the second semester.

February 20, 1897, The Badger, p. 1 col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Anson Baldwin who has been occupying the C. Snashall house on Second Street has moved into the Fred McKinney house recently vacated by Chas. Theobald.

March 27, 1897, The Badger, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Jay Baldwin, who was home from the University, for a few days, returned Monday.

April 23, 1897, The Enterprise, p. 1, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Baldwin of Brooklyn and her daughters, Mrs. Haynes and Mrs. Gillies, of South Dakota were in the city shopping Tuesday.

July 10, 1897, The Badger, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

R. H. Baldwin and wife, of Chicago, have been the guests of the Austin relatives in this city since Monday evening.

August 5, 1897, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baldwin, of Chicago, were arrivals Monday evening, for a visit with the Austin family and other relatives and friends.

August 6, 1897, The Enterprise, p. 1, col. 6, Evansville, Wisconsin

Miss Blanche Brigham, Clint Wadsworth, Jay Baldwin and Ralph Wilder took their departure, Monday noon, for the state university.

October 1, 1897, Enterprise, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Anson Baldwin has begun building his new residence on the corner of Second and Highland Streets.

October 14, 1897, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

[Note: in the year-end tabulation of improvements in Evansville. A. Baldwin's dwelling was listed as costing $2,000.]

Julius Baldwin has been painting the barn and windmill on his farm.

October 15, 1897, the Enterprise, p. 1, col. 7, Evansville, Wisconsin

Zala Baldwin expects to close up his turkey buying and dressing next week. He has been working 13 hands and says his receipts and shipments will fully equal other seasons.

December 17, 1897, The Enterprise, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Jay Baldwin came down from Madison, Thursday afternoon, to visit at his parental home in this city.

April 1, 1898, Enterprise, p. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Messrs. Lloyd Spencer and Jay Baldwin and Misses Blanche Brigham and Crystal Stair spent a part of the week here having completed their mid-winter examinations.

February 18, 1899, The Badger, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

The Baldwin Bros. Have just had placed in their feed mill a 20-horse power gasoline engine.

March 11, 1899, The Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Jule Baldwin and daughter Daisy of Brooklyn have gone to S. Dakota hoping that the change of climate may prove beneficial to the former.

March 11, 1899, The Badger, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Jay Baldwin Principal in the Poynette school has been at home the past week for a vacation. March 10, 1900, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Jay Baldwin has been engaged as principal of the Marshall high school.

July 28, 1900, The Badger p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Zala Baldwin of Brooklyn, has sold his interest in the feed mill here, to his brother, William, who is now sole proprietor of this mill, while Zala has purchased a home in Madison, where he will move and carry on an extensive egg business for the Ellis Bros. Of Boston, Mass.

March 19, 1901, The Tribune, p. 3, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Fred Hatfield and daughter Hazel are the guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Baldwin.

October 15, 1901, The Tribune "From the Enterprise", p. 3, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

Prof. Jay Baldwin resumed his duties as principal of the school in Marshall, Monday.
September 12, 1902, Enterprise, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Miss Myrtle Baldwin took her departure, Tuesday, for a visit with her brother Jay and wife in Marshall.

September 12, 1902, Enterprise, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Prof. Jay Baldwin returned to his school duties at Marshall, this week, he and his family having spent most of the summer at his parental home in this city.

September 13, 1902, The Badger, p. 1, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

Myrtle Baldwin has resigned her position as clerk at The Economy, and went to Marshall Tuesday, to spend a few weeks with her brother Jay and family.

September 13, 1902, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Jay Baldwin was down from Marshall, the first of the week to attend his uncle's funeral.

November 8, 1902, The Badger, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Prof. Jay Baldwin of Marshall attended his uncle Alvin Sawin's funeral in this city last Tuesday.

November 11, 1902, The Tribune, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

(Eleanor Sawin Baldwin was Jay's mother)

OBITUARY

Alvin J. Sawin died at the home of his sister, Mrs. C. M. Smith on Saturday, Nov. 1, 1902, of paralysis.

Mr. Sawin was born in Chenango County, N. Y., on February 19, 1819. He was of the fifth generation in direct descent from John Sawin, the founder of the family in America, who settled in the Massachusetts Colony in 1650, only 30 years after the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth Rock.

The deceased came to Wisconsin on a prospecting tour in 1844 and decided to located in this state, engaging to work as a farm hand. His father came the following year, and being pleased with the country, also decided to locate here. In 1846, accompanied by his father, he located in the town of Brooklyn, Green Co.; at the time of his death he was still owner of the 200 acre farm he formerly located upon. His father was the first Baptist minister in this territory.

One brother and four sisters, Ethan P. Sawin, of this City, Mrs. Clarissa Tillinghast of Riplet, N. Y., Mesdames Mary J. Montgomery, Eleanor Baldwin, and Juliette Smith, of this city, besides many friends, are left to mourn the loss of a devoted brother, a kind neighbor and a true friend.

The funeral services were held at the home of Dr. Smith on Tuesday morning at 10:00 o'clock Rev. J. W. Hoage, officiating. Interment in the cemetery on Jug Prairie.

November 8, 1902, The Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. A. Baldwin and daughter Myrtle went to Marshall, Thursday, for a visit with Prof. Jay Baldwin and family.

November 22, 1902, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. A. Baldwin and daughter Myrtle went to Marshall, Thursday, for a visit with Prof. Jay Baldwin and family.

November 22, 1902, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Prof. Jay Baldwin of Marshall, visited Saturday and Sunday with his parents in this city.

February 12, 1903, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Jennie Hatfield and Miss Myrtle Baldwin went to Marshall, Thursday noon, for a few days visit with their brother, Jay Baldwin, and family. January 24, 1903, The Badger, p. 1 col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Lucinda Ford died Feb. 2, 1903, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Halstead, aged 81 years. She was a sister of Anson Baldwin of this City, and Julius Baldwin of Brooklyn. Funeral services were held at the home Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Several relatives from Brooklyn were in attendance.

February 7, 1903, The Badger p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Edgar M. Cole and Myrtle M. Baldwin were married Wednesday afternoon by the Rev. J. W. Hoag.

June 18, 1903, Evansville Review "Here and Elsewhere" Evansville, Wisconsin

MARRIED.

A very pretty home wedding occurred at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, June 17, 1903, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. Baldwin on Highland street, when their daughter Myrtle May was united in marriage to Edgar M. Cole. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Wellington Hoag in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. Both of the young people have been prominent in Evansville social and business circles, and a large company of friends extend their congratulations and best wishes.

June 23, 1903, The Tribune, p. 3, col. 6, Evansville, Wisconsin

Jay Baldwin and family will spend the summer season at the parental home in this city.

June 25, 1903, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Jay Baldwin and family from Marshall arrived last Saturday to spend the summer at the parental home.
June 20, 1903, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Miss Myrtle May Baldwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Baldwin, and Edgar M. Cole were united in marriage Wednesday June 17, 1903, at 5 p.m. by Rev. John Wellington Hoag. Only the immediate relatives were present. Both bride and groom are well and favorably known; the groom is proprietor of a barber shop, and the bride was for some time an obliging clerk in The Economy. We extend congratulations.

June 20, 1903, Badger, p. 1, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

J. B. Baldwin is at home for the summer; he will be on his farm during the vacation. He will be principal of the Reedsburg school next year.

Evansville, Wisconsin

June 18, 1904, the Badger, p. 1, col. 4,

Prof. Jay Baldwin of Marshall spent Saturday at the parental home in this city.

April 30, 1904, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

J. B. Baldwin is at home for the summer; he will be on his farm during the vacation. He will be principal of the Reedsburg school next year.

June 18, 1904, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Prof. J. B. Baldwin, wife and little daughter took their departure, Tuesday for Reedsburg where the former has been engaged as the principal of the school at that city.

August 27, 1904, Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Prof. Jay B. Baldwin, wife and little daughter returned to Reedsburg, Sunday, where Mr. Baldwin is principal of the schools.

December 3, 1904, Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Prof. Jay Baldwin and wife are home to spend the holiday vacation with his parents Mr. and Mrs. A. Baldwin.

December 27, 1904, The Tribune, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Prof. Jay B. Baldwin, wife and little daughter returned to Reedsburg, Sunday, where Mr. Baldwin is principal of the schools.

December 3, 1904, Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Prof. J. B. Baldwin and family of Reedsburg, have been spending the week with relatives in this city.

April 1, 1905, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Prof. J. B. Baldwin, wife and child, who have been spending their summer vacation with their parents A. Baldwin and wife and other relatives and friends in this city and vicinity, take their departure Saturday for their home in Reedsburg, where the professor takes charge of their graded school another year.

August 25, 1905, Enterprise, p. 3, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Prof. J. B. Baldwin and family of Reedsburg, are guests at the parental home.

December 30, 1905, The Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin

Prof. J. B. Baldwin and family are spending his holiday vacation with his parents A. Baldwin and wife.

January 2, 1906, The Tribune, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Zala Baldwin of Madison, has sold what is known as the Rev. Walter McFarlane residence on First Street to Wm. R. Patterson.

January 26, 1906, Enterprise, p. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Jennie Baldwin Hatfield and daughter took their departure Monday for their home at Palmer, Ia., after an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Baldwin, and other relatives and friends here.

January 26, 1906, Enterprise, Evansville, Wisconsin

--A large auction sale of stock, grain, hay, straw and farm machinery will take place on the Anson Baldwin farm four and one-half miles north-west of Evansville and two and one-half miles south of Brooklyn, on Monday Feb. 28 commencing promptly at 9 o'clock in the morning with a free lunch at noon. D. F. Finane, Auctioneer. W. W. Gillies, Clerk. A. E. Harte, Proprietor.

February 13, 1906, Enterprise, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Prof. J. B. Baldwin and family of Reedsburg came down Friday to be with their parents Mr. and Mrs. A. Baldwin a couple of days returning Sunday evening.

February 27, 1906, The Tribune, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Born: To Prof. and Mrs. J. B. Baldwin, of Reedsburg, on Tuesday, Oct. 16, 1906, a son. Mr. Baldwin will be remembered as the youngest son of A. Baldwin of this city.

October 19, 1906, The Enterprise, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

J. B. Baldwin started Monday for Milwaukee.

December 9, 1908, The Enterprise, and The Tribune, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. J. Baldwin was called last week to Balaton, Minn., by the death of her father.

April 7, 1909, The Enterprise and The Tribune, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Ground was broken Saturday last for a new house that Alderman Paulson is going to have erected on the west end of his property, the house to front on Longfield Street. L. A. Baldwin will also soon build on his lots that face the same street.

September 29, 1909, Enterprise, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

FIFTY YEARS WEDDED.

Anson Baldwin and Wife Celebrate the Fiftieth Anniversary of their Wedding.

Some seventy five relatives and invited friends and guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Baldwin last Sunday, Nov. 28, to help the worthy couple celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day, and the event, which will be remembered always by all who were present, was one of the most delightful and enjoyable imaginable.

Fifty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin were made man and wife in the town of Brooklyn, beginning housekeeping on a farm near Oregon, where they resided about seven years, moving thence to a farm in Brooklin township, which they still own, and where they resided until nineteen years ago, when they came to Evansville where they have lived since.

They have five children, two daughters and three sons, all of whom were present on this happy occasion.

For entertainment at this gathering there was music by Neff and Hatch on violin and harp, and piano music by Miss Lou Howland, and a sumptuous repast was served upon which R. v. D. Q. Grabill asked the blessing of the Most High. But the genuine social enjoyment was the getting together for social intercourse of so many friends and relatives.

That Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin may live to celebrate their diamond wedding is the wish of the Enterprise.

Those present at this important social event were: Mr. and Mrs. Anson Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cole, Orval Baldwin, Robert Baldwin, Elizabeth Baldwin, Donald Cole, Mr. and Mrs. D. Q. Grabill, Mrs. Ed. Jordan, Mrs. E. E. Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Smith, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Smith Jr., Mr. and Mrs. H. Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. H. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brink, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. West, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Binkely, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Howland, Mr. and Mrs. W. Luchsieger, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sperry, Mrs. Jane Montgomery, Mrs. Williams, H. Christenson, and Miss Lou Howland, all of Evansville; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Towns and Master Harry Towns, and Miss Nellie Towns, of Fulton; Mr. and Mrs. Zala Baldwin, Perry Eunice, Esther and Charlie Baldwin, of Madison; Mr. Julius Baldwin, Mr. and Mr. Clint Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Baldwin, Misses Daisy and Janet Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Haynes, Mrs. Edna Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Roberts and Francis Jones, of Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bryant, of Randolph; Mrs. B. Bosh, of Rio; Mr. and Mrs. John Curtis, of Ft. Atkinson and Mrs. Jennie Hatfield, of Palmer, Iowa.

bt
w
J
B
G a C t a P
E S t
C r t e
e
s

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Baldwin, an Account of Whose Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary was Gi en in Last Week's Enterprise

December 7, 1910, Enterprise & Tribune, p. 1, col. 3-4. Evansville, Wisconsin

L. A. Baldwin and wife and Robert Finn and wife went by auto to Juda Sunday and visited Mrs. Finn's sister.

July 13, 1911, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Jay Baldwin returned Wednesday from Iowa where she has been spending the past few weeks.

September 4, 1913, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

The Eastern Star social giving Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Jay Baldwin was very largely attended, over seventy-five being present. The evening was spent playing cards. Sherbert and wafers were served as refreshments.

December 11, 1913, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Jay Baldwin, manager of the Laurel Book company, of Des Moines, arrived Saturday to spend the holidays at home.

December 25, 1913, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

F. D. Hatfield has purchased a grocery store at 407 E. Main St., Madison. He took possession just a week ago today. Mrs. Hatfield and Hazel will remain until the close of the school year when they will move to Madison.

February 26, 1914, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

J. A. Harley, of Madison, vice president of the Laurel Book Company of Des Moines, Iowa was in the city today. He spoke in the very highest terms of the work of Jay Baldwin, who was traveling salesman for the company for about four years. On the death of the manager last summer, Mr. Baldwin was elected to fill that position. His report at the annual meeting of the directors in Chicago last week was very gratifying. The company authorized him to change the location of the offices from Des Moines to Chicago and to carry out other plans to increase the business.

February 5, 1914, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

J. B. Baldwin was home from Chicago over Sunday, April 2, 1914, P. 5, col.2, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Pass Away

WERE AMONG EVANSVILLE'S OLDEST CITIZENS

Double Funeral Will be Held Sunday

At about ten-thirty Tuesday morning Anson Baldwin passed quietly away at his home in this city. His health had been gradually failing for the last few years, so the end was not entirely unexpected, although he had been confined to his bed but a short time preceeding his death. He retained his consciousness until the very last. One of his last words was to inquire concerning his wife, who was ill in an adjoining room.

He was born July 11, 1836, in Kent County, Canada. In 1848 he came with his parents to Wisconsin. On Nov. 28, 1860, he was united in marriage to Eleanor Matilda Sawin, in the town of Brooklyn, at the homestead of Mrs. Baldwin's parents, Rev. and Mrs. John Sawin.

They made their home on the old homestead in the town of Oregon, Dane County, for seven years, then they purchased in the town of Brooklyn, where they spent twenty-seven years. They moved to Evansville in 1894 where they have since resided.

For about two years Mr. Baldwin was associated in the feed mill business with his son L. A. He has always kept an active interest in life and looked after his farming interests until the last being a minister in the Baptist church. When she was only a young girl her family came to Racine, Wis., then overland to Green County, where they located in 1846 on what became the family homestead. Here she lived with her parents and received her education until the time of her marriage to Mr. Baldwin in 1860.

Besides the children and grandchildren, Mrs. Baldwin leaves three sisters to mourn her loss, Mrs. Clara Tillinghast of Ripley, N. Y., Mrs. Jane Montgomery and Mrs. Julia Smith of Evansville.

The funeral services of both Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin will be held at the home Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, and will be conducted by the Rev. D. Quincy Grabill. The interment will be in Maple hill cemetery, where Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin will be the first ones to be laid to rest in the new addition to the cemetery.

Rock County Farmers' Institute

AT FOOTVILLE FEBRUARY 17 and 18

The Rock County Farmers' Institute will be held in Footville Feb. 17 and 18.

These meetings are free to all and the farmers are urged to attend. The first session will convene at 9:30 a. m. There will be a cooking school for the ladies each afternoon.

The institute is designed to aid the farmers in making farm-

Celebrate Golden Wedding

In 1910, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin celebrated their golden wedding. They have had a very happy life together. From their home there has quietly radiated an influence that has been beneficial and helpful to many. On the day of their golden wedding they said it was the very happiest day of their life together.

Mr. Baldwin was the youngest of thirteen children, all of whom have passed away. Six children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, John David, who died in infancy, Lewellyn A., of Evansville, Zala S. of Madison, Jay B., Mrs. Jennie E. Hatfield and Mrs. Myrtle M. Cole of this city. There are also eight grand children.

Mrs. Baldwin Dies This Morning

Mrs. Baldwin died this morning at eight o'clock, passing away easily and peacefully. Her death makes it doubly hard for the relatives and friends yet it is most fitting that it should come as it did. The married life of these two people was most ideal in every way. Each had seemed to have lived with and for the other. Each one thought unselfishly of the other until the very last, so it is indeed beautiful to think of them as not being separated even by death.

Eleanor Matilda Sawin was born April 19, 1836 in Ripley, Chautauqua County, N. Y., the twelfth of thirteen children.

Her father and mother were Rev. and Mrs. John Sawin, Mr. Sawin being a minister in the Baptist church. When she was only a young girl her family came to Racine, Wis., then overland to Green County, where they located in 1846 on what became the family homestead. Here she lived with her parents and received her education until the time of her marriage to Mr. Baldwin in 1860.

Besides the children and grandchildren, Mrs. Baldwin leaves three sisters to mourn her loss, Mrs. Clara Tillinghast of Ripley, N. Y., Mrs. Jane Montgomery and Mrs. Julia Smith of Evansville.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin, who were in Philadelphia at the time of the death of Mr. Baldwin's father, arrived home last night.

February 5, 1914, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Miss Orrel Baldwin entertained two friends, the Misses Stotley from Reedsburg, last week. Jay Baldwin has gone back to his work on the road, having enjoyed a week's vacation with his family here.

August 20, 1914, Evansville Review, "Home News", p. 5, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Jay Baldwin and children went to Madison Tuesday, where they will spend the remainder of the week.

August 27, 1914, p. 5, col. 2, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Jay Baldwin of Des Moines is here for a short stay with his family.

September 10, 1914, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Jay Baldwin is entertaining at a card party this afternoon.

September 10, 1914, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin returned Saturday from a several days' visit in Milwaukee where they attended the convention of the Order of the Eastern Star.

October 15, 1914, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Miss Elizabeth Baldwin entertained several little friends Saturday afternoon in honor of her fifth birthday. The young folks enjoyed a theater party in the afternoon, after which supper was served at the Baldwin home.

Miss Orrel Baldwin and Miss Florence Brunsell gave a masquerade party Friday evening. After the first part of the evening had been enjoyed and refreshments served at the Baldwin home the young folks repaired to the Brunsell home for a dance.

October 29, 1914, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

[Note: the Brunsell house was across the street from the Baldwin house on West Main Street.]

Mrs. Jay Baldwin and daughter Elizabeth, returned Saturday night from Chicago, where they visited for a few days. Mr. Baldwin accompanied them home for Sunday, returning to his work in Chicago Monday morning.

December 10, 1914, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

J. B. Baldwin of Chicago, spent the week end in the city with his family.

January 28, 1915, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. J. B. Baldwin accompanied by Robert and Elizabeth went to Rio on Saturday to spend a short time at the home of her sister, who is ill.

April 1, 1915, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

J. B. Baldwin of the Laurel Book Company of Chicago, spent the week end in the city with his family.

July 15, 1915, p. 5, col. 2, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

J. B. Baldwin of Chicago, spent Sunday here with his family.

January 20, 1916, p. 4, col. 1, "Random Notes" Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin have issued invitations for a dinner party, to be given Saturday evening.
February 1, 1917, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

On last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin entertained eighteen friends at a dinner party.
Following the dinner, the evening was spent playing bridge.
February 8, 1917, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. J. B. Baldwin entertained the teachers of the public schools at a six o'clock dinner Saturday evening.
March 23, 1916, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin, p. 5, col.

Mrs. J. B. Baldwin spent a few days last week in Chicago. The Misses Beth Biglow and Orrel Baldwin spent the week-end at Beloit.
September 20, 1917, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

J. B. Baldwin, of Chicago, spent the week-end with his family in this city.
March 29, 1917, p. 5, col. 2, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Robert Baldwin has returned from a visit at Little Rock, Arkansas.
June 21, 1917, p. 4, col. 1, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

THE NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED IN K. OF P.

Last Thursday evening there was a joint installation of the Knights of Pythias and the Pythian Sisters at their hall that was very impressive. The officers installed were those for the coming year.

Those installed for the Knights of Pythias were: A. E. Harte, C. C.; F. C. Cook, V. C.; Clyde Fisher, P.; Z. W. Miller, M. of W.; F. W. Gillman, K. R. S.; E. C. Uphoff, M. of E.; Chas. Bullard, M. at A.; Fred Brunzell, I. G.; C. Scofield, O. G. Deputy Grand Chancellor, Z. W. Miller, Installing Officer.

The officers installed by the Pythian Sisters were: Mrs. Lulu Barnard, P. C.; Mrs. Meta Baldwin, M. E. C.; Mrs. Mary Carson, E. S.; Mrs. Mattie Smith, E. J.; Mrs. L. Doolittle, M.; Mrs. Jessie Gillman, M. of F.; Mrs. A. E. Harte, M. of R. and S.; Mrs. Ida Jorgenson, P.; Mrs. C. Prunk, O. G. Past Grand Chief, Mrs. Sylvia Colony, Installing Officer.

There was fully one hundred present and after the installation a light supper was served and the balance of the evening spent in having a pleasant social time with cards dancing etc.

BETTER BABIES

WANTED AT FAIR

The world wants better babies. That is the reason the woman's branch of the State Council of Defense and the local councils are taking such an interest in the Better Babies Contest that will be held at the fair grounds next week.

There are several fine prizes offered and it will be quite an honor for a mother to have an almost perfect baby.

The examinations for this contest will be held at the library and the premiums will be awarded Friday, at 2:00 p. m., at the fair grounds.

Further information can be obtained from the superintendent of this department, Mrs. Meta Baldwin, or from the Fair Premium List, page 18.

Hereafter, in conjunction with the Evansville Players, will be the Evansville Community Orchestra and Evansville Community Chorus. This who will play in the Community Orchestra are George M. Lindsay, violin and leader, Miss Pauline Geary, piano, Joe Bodenberger, saxophone, Everett combs, cello, Miss Maud Combs, violin, and Victor Wall, drums. This Orchestra will play for all productions of the Evansville Players in the future.

The Community chorus is composed of many of the best singers in the city, as follows: Lillian Siebert, Leoline Harper, Ethel Fisher, Beth Biglow, Hazel Greatsinger, Bessie Brown, Brice Baird, Bruce Hubbard, Walter Graham, Glidden Libby, Lemore Clark, Lynn Roberts, Webster Johnson, Harold Zwickey, Marlowe Smith, Cleo Scott, Florence Brunsell, Orrel Baldwin, Marita Wilder, Dorothy Butts, Corinne Murwin, Myrtle Johnson, Dorothy Hansen, Maude Ellis, Martha Davis, Mildred Hansen.

February 20, 1919, Evansville Review, p. 1, Col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

Jay Baldwin has returned to Chicago after spending Sunday with his family here.

May 8, 1919, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Misses Orrel Baldwin and Thelma Clark of the university spent the week end with their parents in this city.

October 31, 1919, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Misses Orrel Baldwin and Thelma Clark of the university spent the week end with their parents in this city.

October 31, 1919, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Llewellyn A. Baldwin to Clarke Rasmussen in Evansville, $5,000.

Sale of property recorded in January 8, 1920, Evansville Review

J. B. Baldwin returned to Chicago Monday after spending the weekend at his home in this city.

April 15, 1920, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Brooklyn News: Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Baldwin, Mrs. Boyd Baldwin and son, Robert, Miss Daisy Baldwin were at Evansville Friday to attend the funeral of Mrs. L. A. Baldwin.

April 28, 1921, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Brooklyn News: Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Baldwin, Mrs. Boyd Baldwin and son, Robert, Miss Daisy Baldwin were at Evansville Friday to attend the funeral of Mrs. L. A. Baldwin.

April 28, 1921, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

EVANSVILLE CHAUTAUQUA

Opens June 14-18 and Offers Nine Splendid Entertainments for Only $2.00

AN INEXPENSIVE JUNE VACATION

Evansville's Chautauqua committees are making every effort to insure a most successful season of the people of the community.

Mrs. Jay Baldwin and the Grounds Committee have made arrangements with the City Park Committee who promise that Leonard Park will be blooming and attractive for this occasion, and knowing these gentlemen we believe there will be no more beautiful spot in this county in which to spend a week.

Auto-Campaign Today.

Mrs. Fred Baker, chairman of the Advertising Committee is today marshalling an automobile advertising campaign which will placard twenty miles of surrounding country informing June picnickers that Evansville offers a special treat to them June 14-18. The following take parties armed with hammers and paste-pots: Mr. Lew Van Wart, Mr. C. J. Pearson, Mr. George Pullen, Mr. Fred Fellows, Mr. J. E. Montgomery, and Mr. Chas. Barnum.

Ticket Sale On.

Mrs. Richard Carson, chairman of the ticket sale, has apportioned territory to her captains and their aides; Irvin Shaw has first ward; Mr. T. C. Richardson and Mrs. Flora

Henry Austin bosses third ward. Mrs. Ellis' committee is the first to take the field and reports a brisk sale of season tickets. Few pikers in the second ward.

Exempt Admission Tax.

The general committee scored a success when it showed the Internal Revenue Department that the Afternoon Club, a non-commercial organization is conducting the Chautauqua as a community educational project, all proceeds to go to a Chautauqua and Public Educational Fund and thus secured exemption for the admission tax. The season tickets will be two dollars straight for adults, and one dollar for children, seven to twelve years of age. Single admissions are 50 cents for all evening and 30 cents for all afternoon sessions.

Don't Be a Piker.

Every family should buy season tickets, even when they can attend only evenings.

It is cheaper. It is more loyal to the community project. When you buy single admission you are a side-liner, an outsider, letting others carry the burden. When you buy a season ticket you are a stock-holder and a booster helping your community to a success in a worthy undertaking.

OU

Citiz
me

Wi
Day than times come and blue to th
and
and make not the v

Wi
the p Harr
pendi the J to it Here
the last and o ed m

To the c
of V.
Evans Relief
veter ans o dren honor with

At sever
all th nuity servic
Rev. cornet made The
tery e neath Glory
as a p by th which

June 2, 1921, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 1 & 2,

Evansville, Wisconsin

Jay Baldwin of Chicago spent the week end and the Fourth with his family in this city.

July 7, 1921, Evansville Review, "Local News" Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Jay Baldwin and children left yesterday for their home in Chicago, the household goods going by truck.

September 29, 1921, Evansville Review "Local News", p. 5, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin, together with their family, Oral, Robert and Elizabeth, accompanied by Mrs. Von Kenell, of Chicago, spent the Fourth of July with friends and relatives in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin expect to return to Evansville to make their home sometime early in the fall.

July 6, 1922, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Robert Baldwin of Chicago, came the first of the week to start the term of the high school here. Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin expect to move back to Evansville the first of October.

September 14, 1922, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. J. W. Ames and Mrs. Jay Baldwin returned Tuesday from Milwaukee where they have been attending an Eastern Star Convention.

October 5, 1923, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

The Cardinal announces the pledging of Robert Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin, of this city to the X I Social Fraternity at the University.

October 18, 1923, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Those who expect to attend the U. W. are: Hayden Smith, Rolland Barnum, Wm. Antes, Donald Hansen, Jamison Green, Harold Wichern, Robert Baldwin, Eleanor Porter, Alice Colony, Glen Damon, Margaret Greene and Cleland Baker.

September 13, 1923, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. M. L. Paulson, Mrs. Lee Barnard, Mrs. J. W. Ames, Mrs. C. M. Smith, Mrs. J. Baldwin, Mrs. Ed Smith and Mrs. Cliff Smith are guests of Mrs. Max Fisher at her home in Madison today at a luncheon and bridge party.

April 10, 1924, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

EVANSVILLE GIRL RECEIVES DEGREE

Orrel T. Baldwin of Evansville, receives her degree in home economics from the University of Wisconsin, Monday, June 23. She is numbered among the 76 young women who receive the Bachelor of Science in home economics degree. More than 550 are listed as alumni of the Wisconsin course in Home Economics.

She was an active leader in a number of University activities, among the number being: Kappa Alpha Theta; Cabinet Council; Y. W. C. A.; Senior Swingout; 1924 Badger Staff and Memorial Union Drive.

June 19, 1924, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

EVANSVILLE GIRL RECEIVES DEGREE

Orrel T. Baldwin of Evansville, receives her degree in home economics from the University of Wisconsin, Monday, June 23. She is numbered among the 76 young women who receive the Bachelor of Science in home economics degree. More than 550 are listed as alumni of the Wisconsin course in Home Economics.

She was an active leader in a number of University activities, among the number being: Kappa Alpha Theta; Cabinet Council; Y. W. C. A.; Senior Swingout; 1924 Badger Staff and Memorial Union Drive.

June 19, 1924, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Montgomery - Gay

Miss Caryl Montgomery of this city was united in marriage Saturday, August 16, to Len R. Gay of Madison at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Montgomery, Rev. A. W. Stephens officiating.

The bride wore a gown of pearl crepe de chine and carried an arm bouquet of roses. The maid of honor, Miss Arabel Hullman of Mt. Horeb, wore a gown of grain georgette and cream lace, carrying an old fashioned bouquet of garden flowers.

The groom was attended by his brother.

A wedding breakfast was served, following the ceremony, to twenty-five guests by Miss Ethel Fisher and Miss Orrel Baldwin, Miss Florence Brunsell and Miss Dorothy Hansen.

After the usual congratulations the young couple left for a two weeks wedding trip, after which they will be at home to their friends at the groom's home in Madison.

August 21, 1924, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Jay Baldwin entertained at a one o'clock luncheon Wednesday and entertains again today.

September 4, 1924, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Robert Baldwin, who has been spending the summer at Yellowstone Park, returned home the first of this week, and will attend the University.

September 25, 1924, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Miss Orrel Baldwin, who has been spending the holidays here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin returned Saturday to Philadelphia where she teaches in a girl's college. Her sister Elizabeth, accompanied her and will attend college at Bryn Mawr. Mrs. Baldwin left the first of the week for Chicago to spend the winter with her husband who is Secretary Treasure of the Laurel Book Company.

January 8, 1925, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Will Baldwin last week placed his feed mill under electric power and now has his new grinder running at a speed that enables him to grind alfalfa, clover and different other hays into a chicken feed or calf feed that is said to produce wonderful results. The placing of his mill under electric power has so speeded up his grinding apparatus that he states this week he ground fourteen bags of ear corn and oats, mixed, in ten minutes. He still has his old engine power to fall back on in an emergency. Earl Adamson, and wife were in the city on business, Monday. Mr. Adamson was formerly editor of the Belleville Telescope and is now working on a paper at Watertown.

February 19, 1925, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. J. B. Baldwin left Saturday for Isle, Minnesota, to visit her sister who is ill.
April 29, 1925, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin will leave for Philadelphia, Pa., to meet their daughters, Orrel, who teaches in a college there, and Elizabeth who attended school in Bryn Mawr the past year. They expect to travel through the east.

June 11, 1925, p. 5, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin will leave for Philadelphia, Pa., to meet their daughters, Orrel, who teaches in a college there, and Elizabeth who attended school in Bryn Mawr the past year. They expect to travel through the east.

July 11, 1925, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. J. B. Baldwin entertained the Red Cross Club Wednesday at a one o'clock luncheon.
December 3, 1925, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Miss Orrel Baldwin, who spent Christmas here with her parents, will leave tomorrow for Philadelphia, where she is engaged in teaching.

December 31, 1925, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Jay Baldwin joined her husband in Chicago last week, Wednesday, and they are attending the National Education Convention in Washington, D. C.

February 25, 1926, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

several newspaper plants will be visited.

Miss Baldwin Sails on Majestic.

Miss Oral Baldwin sails June 24 for Europe on the S. S. Majestic from the New York harbor. Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, Holland, England, and Scotland are the principal countries which she is visiting. In historic Italy Miss Baldwin will visit Genoa, the home of Columbus, Rome, Naples, Florence, Venice and Milan.

She will return on the S. S. Regina and will land at Montreal the latter part of August. Her tour is managed and conducted by Professor and Mrs. H. G. Campbell of Morning-side college, Sioux City, Iowa.

June 24, 1926, Evansville Review, p. 1,

col. 4 Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Jay Baldwin and daughter, Elizabeth autoed to Chicago the first of the week, where they went to meet Miss Orrell Baldwin, who has just returned from a trip to Europe. Miss Orrell returned home with them on Tuesday.

September 2, 1926, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Miss Orrell Baldwin will leave on Friday for Philadelphia, to take up her duties as a domestic science teacher in the city schools. Her mother, Mrs. Jay Baldwin, will accompany her as far as Chicago.

September 16, 1926, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Miss Betty Baldwin leaves today for Madison, where she will attend the State University, as a freshman.

September 16, 1926 Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Jay Baldwin is spending this week with his wife. Robert Baldwin entertained a student friend from Madison over the weekend.

October 21, 1926, p. 5, col. 3, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Jay Baldwin, Chicago, spent the weekend with his family.

January 13, 1927, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Past Matrons Elect Officers for Term

Mrs. Edison Brown entertained the Past Matrons, club at dinner, Tuesday, in her home, followed by a meeting.

The club adopted a set of rules drawn up and submitted by Mrs. Sylvia Colony. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Lulu Barnard; secretary, Mrs. Blanche Devine, re-elected; treasurer, Mrs. Belle Gillies, re-elected.

The past matrons present included Mmes. Colony, Nell Spencer, Eva Smith, Meta Baldwin, Barnard, Mary Carson, Devine, Mae Rogers, Myrtle Ames, Cora Harte, Eva Van Patten, Gillies, Katherine Morrison, Brown, Bessie Durner, Bertha Spratler and Mrs. Walters.

peopl
tellig thing more the a gr they it.
T pare chil deal coll
Tha ual tha fer
I wit fo ho:
wa
ce

January 27, 1927, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 4

Evansville, Wisconsin

Baldwin-Noble Nuptials Today
in Evansville

June 25, 1927

MISS ORREL BALDWIN.

Evansville — Miss Orrel Tennant Baldwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Burdette Baldwin, Evansville, and James Kendrick Noble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Noble, Yonkers, N. Y., will be married at 6:30 p. m., Saturday, June 25, in the home of the bride's parents, in the presence of 100 guests. The Rev. D. Q. Grabill, Fort Atkinson, former pastor of the Congregational church, Evansville, will perform the ceremony.

Mrs. Charles Carey, Chicago, will be matron of honor and Miss Betty Baldwin, Evansville; Miss Vivian Noble, Yonkers, N. Y.; Miss Florence Stolte, Reedsburg, and Miss Florence Brunsell, Evansville, will be bridesmaids. Chatland Lenhart, Evanston, Ill., will be best man. Noel Seeburg, Chicago; Charles Carey, Chicago, and Robert Baldwin, Evansville, will act as ushers. Richard Eager, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard P. Eager, will be ring bearer. Mrs. Leonard P. Eager will play the wedding march, "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin as the wedding procession enters, and Mendelssohn's wedding march for recessional.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple will leave for Vancouver, and from there they will sail June 30 on was rendered by Mrs. Gertrude Eager before the ceremony, she also playing the wedding march.

 Following the ceremony, the 150 guests assembled, partook of a buffet supper, the bride's table being decorated with white tapers and low bowls of yellow roses.
 After the reception the happy couple left for Vancouver, British Columbia, from where today they expect to sail on the Empress of India, on a trip around the world, taking their time and making long stops in all the principal countries, before returning to New York City, where they will make their home; the groom being connected with the firm of Noble &
 Noble, educational publishers.
 The bride, Miss Orrel, is a young lady whom all who know her will hate to see her leave her old home town, as her kind disposition and friendly ways have endeared her to all who have known her and there are many both in Evansville and among her class of 1924 at the University of Wisconsin, of which she was a member who will miss her.
 Those from away who attended are,
 Mr. and Mrs. Zala Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kimball, Mr. and Mrs.
 H. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. David
 Moore, the Misses Esther Baldwin, Edith Harper, Virginia Skinner, Beth Thomas, Louise Mautz, Madison; Miss Eleanor Innes, Kansas City; Mr. and Mrs. G. Clifford Noble, New York;
 Mrs. B. Bosch Fullerton, N. D. Mrs.
 Emma Gray, Mrs. Vonaenal, Miss Edie Clark, Miss Ruth Nelson, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jamison, St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Jamison, H. C.
 Jamison, Poynette; Mrs. Fischer Mrs.
 Holte and daughter, Elizabeth, Mr.
 Morris, Reedsburg, Mr. and Mrs. In-le Shue, Beloit; the Rev. and Mrs.
 W. Q. Grabill and daughter, Katherine, Fort Atkinson.

only 15 OR Jun 30, 1927

very people and wh
 His fift Baptist ville att young welcom
 As fr lover of missed tian ac home.
 Fune
 afterno
 two thi officiati
 Mr. daught man G grandcl abeth C lies, bo er, Jan
 Miss Los An 1927, Forest being h of the Miss M
 by all t ville, s quite wards Wiscon
 Morse
 She' le brother Betty her l
 The eles death
 Th an ir funer

Betty, here is the website of the ship that your parents took on their honeymoon.
<http://mmbc.bc.ca/sn97/passenger/p5.html>

The following people held a picnic at Vilas Park, Madison last Sunday and enjoyed themselves despite the cold wind which prevailed, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cole, Miss Dorothy Scott, Miss Francis Magdanz, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Baldwin and son, Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin, Evansville; Mr. and Mrs. Zala Baldwin, Miss Esther Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Baldwin, Lois Phillip, Ruth Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kimball and Zala and Patsy Kimball, Madison.

September 22, 1927, Evansville Review,

Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Jay Baldwin left last Saturday for Chicago, where she will spend the winter with Mr. Baldwin, closing the home here until spring.

December 28, 1928, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

OF 1929 PROM

"Betty" Baldwin Selected Queen of U. W. Fete to be Held Feb. 3; Keeps News Secret For a Week.

Miss Elizabeth "Betty" Baldwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Baldwin of this city, has been chosen queen of the 1929 junior prom to be staged in the U. W. Memorial Union building Feb. 8. Betty is said to be the champion woman secret keeper at the university. For a week she knew she was to be the queen but she didn't tell it, not even to the eleven girls who share a dormitory with her at the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority house.

With the aid of Miss Baldwin's adroitness and its own well-laid plans, the Daily Cardinal, university student newspaper, succeeded in "scooping the world" on the announcement of Betty's selection by John Catlin, Appleton, prom chairman.

A "Prom Queen Extra," issued about 10:45 p. m. Friday, carried the news to inhabitants of the Latin Quarter and particularly to the attendants at the pre-prom dance in the Memorial Union, where Mr. Catlin was to appear late in the evening and introduce his blushing queen.

Before any announcements were made Betty sneaked out of the Kappa house, got in a rented car, and drove to a certain rendezvous where she met the prom chairman. Avoiding all snoopers who were anxious to know the queen's identity, they drove in separate cars and by circuitous routes to Forest Hill cemetery where the official photograph of the queen was taken.

Betty was graduated from the Evansville high school with the class of 1926 after which she spent a year at Bryn Mawr. She is majoring in speech at the university and is a member of the Wisconsin Players. Some day she hopes to be a dramatic coach.

Betty first met Catlin at a prom committee meeting. She says she was surprised when, at a Memorial Union dance, he asked her to be the queen.

the Falack ster ame

of trop gue.
and
the ney
and ing last own ong

the Jun-for

A. E
0 1
0 0
2 0
0 0
6 2
2 1
1 1
1 0
6 0
8 5

A. E
0 0
2 1
1 1
2 1
0 1
4 0

LOCAL GIRL CHOSEN QUEEN OF U. W. PROM

Betty Baldwin is Named Queen
Of University Fete by John Catlin of Appleton

Miss Betty Baldwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Baldwin, 7 South First street, has been chosen queen of the first summer promenade at the University of Wisconsin by John Catlin, Appleton, who is acting as chairman with Williard Monsen.

Monsen, who was chairman of the 1929 prom, has not as yet chosen his queen. The ball will be held Aug. 3 and the committees on finance, publicity, tickets, program, invitation, arrangements, music, decorations, slogan, features, and reception have already been named.

Betty, who was chosen by Catlin as queen of the 1928 prom, was graduated from the local high school with the class of 1926 after which she spent a year at Bryn Mawr. She has been majoring in speech at the university and is a member of the Wisconsin Players. Her ambition is to be a dramatic coach.

tiona
the
Your Burt
ginn
Keep try to M Bask

EA
Pict
for l
So chok
"The
"Sto
chok
Fc follo ners
"Clo

August 1, 1929, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville,

Wisconsin

Mrs. J. B. Baldwin and Mrs. Bruce Ford entertained the Ladies' Golf Association Wednesday afternoon.

October 3, 1929, p. 5, col. 1, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

LADY GOLFERS ELECT OFFICERS

Mrs. J. B. Baldwin was elected president to succeed Mrs. O. C. Jones at a meeting of the Ladies' Golf association held Wednesday afternoon in the O. C. Jones residence. Mrs. Arthur Devine was chosen vice president to succeed Mrs. Baldwin and Miss Dorothy Richmond was re-elected secretary. Mrs. A. C. Holmes was named treasurer to succeed Mrs. Lester Thompson.

June 12, 1930, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 7, Evansville,

Wisconsin

Mrs. Jay Baldwin and son, Robert, left Saturday for Fullerton, S. D., called by the illness of Mrs. Baldwin's mother, Mrs. Georgiana Bosch.

August 28, 1930, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

WILL OPEN NEW
FUNERAL HOME
A deal was closed Wednesday whereby Malcolm V. Allen purchased the J. B. Baldwin residence, on the corner of West Main and South First streets to be used as a funeral home. The place will be known as the Allen Funeral Home and will be opened to the public about October 1.

September 4, 1930, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Robert Stephens Baldwin, student at the University of Wisconsin, spent Sunday at his home here.

November 13, 1930, Evansville Review, "Local Happenings" p. 5, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin, Chicago, were weekend guests in Evansville.

November 13, 1930, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin spent last weekend in Madison and Evansville. They attended the Wis.-Minn. Football game Saturday afternoon.

November 27, 1930, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

A daughter, Elizabeth, was born Monday, May 19, to Mr. and Mrs. J. Kendrick Noble, Yonkers, N. Y. Her mother, Mrs. Jay Baldwin, Chicago, is visiting them.

c
e c
w

May 28, 1931, Evansville Review, p. 5, col.

3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Jay Baldwin and daughter, Elizabeth, Chicago, spent the week-end with relatives here and in Madison.

A daughter, Elizabeth, was born Monday, May 19, to Mr. and Mrs. J. Kendrick Noble, Yonkers, N. Y. Her mother, Mrs. Jay Baldwin, Chicago, is visiting them.

litie ajoy cove ith

May 28, 1931, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Jay Baldwin, Chicago, expects to spend a short vacation here the fore part of August.

July 16, 1931, Evansville Review, p. 8, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin, Chicago, and Zala Baldwin, Madison, spent Saturday with friends and relatives here.

November 5, 1931, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Robert Baldwin, a graduate of the Evansville High School and son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin, Chicago, former local residents, will be graduated in June from the University of Austin, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin, Chicago, visited relatives here Saturday

May 26, 1932, Evansville Review, "Local News" p. 5, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Robert S. Baldwin and Tom Tormey, Madison, visited at the former's home here Wednesday evening. Robert will return to Evansville Friday to spend his summer vacation here.

June 9, 1932, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Robert Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin, Chicago, former Evansville residents, received the degree of Bachelor of Arts at the University of Texas at Austin on June 6. He attended the University of Wisconsin following his graduation from high school here in 1923.

June 16, 1932, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

he he at

NEW AGENCY FOR JOHN DEERE LINE

L. A. Baldwin, of the Baldwin feed mill here, has this week taken over the agency of the John Deere line of farm implements and tractors and is now prepared to supply Evansville farmers with either horse or power farm appliances. Tom Keegan, this city, who has had considerable experience in this line of work, has been engaged by Mr. Baldwin to assist in the sales campaign.

W
v
c
c

E need men cult Eva gani both nan O
the
the

August 18, 1932, Evansville Review, p. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

ELIZABETH BALDWIN TO WED H. G. WIELAND

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Baldwin, formerly of this city, now of Chicago, announce the engagement of their daughter Elizabeth, to Mr. Harold G. Wieland, Wilmette, Ill.

Miss Baldwin is a 1930 graduate of the University of Wisconsin and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. She will be remembered as the Prom queen in 1929.

Mr. Wieland attended the university with the class of 1926, was prominent in activities and is a member of Chi Psi fraternity, and is connected with the Wieland Dairy Co. of Chicago.

The date of the marriage has not been announced.

third. This Magee-Tom winner of still include terson, Stev derson.

The Memb an before m back, four o still being u and Hugh Hy Ed Butts an a second rou Cain and A.

pair in the Cain and Lew over L. Clafl for his third ison took J. Christianson | Johnny Wadd son and Luth matches to do

September 1, 1932, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 4,

Evansville, Wisconsin

BETTY BALDWIN BRIDE OF HAROLD G. WIELAND

Married in Chicago Chapel at Noon Saturday; Will Reside In Oak Park, Illinois

Miss Elizabeth Baldwin, former Evansville girl and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Baldwin, Chicago, became the bride of Harold G. Wieland, Wilmette, Ill., at a ceremony performed at noon Saturday in St. Chrysostom's chapel, Chicago, by the Rev. Mr. Starck, according to an announcement just received here.

Mrs. J. Kendrick Noble, Yonkers, N. Y., sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and Charles Wieland, father of the bridegroom, acted as best man. The ceremony was enhanced with organ music and the bride was given in marriage by her father. The chapel was beautifully decorated for the occasion with autumn flowers and lighted tapers.

The bride wore a gown of brown bagheera of princess mode with a brown velvet hat, waxed veil, and suede shoes and gloves to match. She wore a corsage of orchids and lillies of the valley. The matron of honor was attired in a gown of chartreuse rough crepe trimmed in sable with which was worn a small brown velvet

(Continued on Page 5)

BETTY BALDWIN BRIDE OF HAROLD G. WIELAND

(Continued from page one)

turban, brown suede shoes and gloves, and a shoulder corsage of orchids.

The ceremony was short with only members of the immediate families in attendance. Immediately following the marriage, the bridal couple left on a motor trip through eastern Canada and the eastern states. They will make their home at 320 Wisconsin avenue, Oak Park, Ill.

The bride was graduated from the Evansville high school and from the University of Wisconsin in 1930. Prominent in university circles, she was chosen prom queen in 1929 and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, national social sorority. The bridegroom, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wieland, Wilmette, Ill., was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1926. He is a member of Chi Psi, a national social fraternity. He is now associated with the Wieland Dairy company in Chicago.

The Review joins with a wide circle of Evansville friends in extending its congratulations to the newly weds wishing them many years of happiness and prosperity.

November 3, 1932, Evansville Review, p. 1 & 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Baldwin and son, Robert, University of Wisconsin spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Baldwin's sisters, Mrs. Laura Sheldron, Madison.

April 20, 1933, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin, Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baker of Janesville were guests here Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cole.

March 23, 1939, Evansville Review "Local Happenings," p. 2, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

lightenment as reading brings may extend its blessing and its promises within each neighborhood and beyond each neighborhood."

Among the recent arrivals at the library, according to Miss Herziger, are "Restless is the River," August Derleth; "Not Peace but a Sword," Vincent Sheean; "Captain Horatio Hornblower," C. S. Forrester; "Soaring Wings," biography of Amelia Earhart, by George Palmer Putnum; "The Hundredth Year," Philip Guerdalla; "Mr. Emmanuel," Louis Golding; and "Escape," Ethel Vance.

HISTORIC BALDWIN FARM TRANSFERRED

Kutzke Family of Brooklyn Buys Jug Prairie Landmark From Heirs of Pioneers

Among the business transactions completed here during the past week was the sale of the well-known Baldwin farm, five miles northwest of the city, which has been purchased by Fred Kutzke and his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pernot, Brooklyn, from the heirs of the late Mr. and Mrs. Anson Baldwin.

The farm, covering a 410-acre tract, is located in Green and Rock counties.

Following their marriage in 1860, Mr. and Mrs. Anson Baldwin first located on a farm near Oregon where I. A. Baldwin, formerly of Evansville, and Zala Baldwin, deceased, were born.

Seven years later the Baldwins moved to a log cabin in Green county and there was born their daughter, Mrs. Fred Hatfield, Long Beach, Calif. The family moved to the present Baldwin farm a few years later and on that homestead was born J. B. Baldwin, Chicago, a former local resident, and Mrs. Ed Cole of 129 West Liberty street.

The Baldwins lived in the historic frame house, a landmark of Jug Prairie, for 35 years and earned a reputation for being prosperous and influential farmers. Upon coming to Evansville Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin purchased a home on the corner of South Second and Highland streets where both passed away in February, 1914 and were buried in Maple Hill cemetery here on the same day.

The Baldwin homestead on Jug Prairie burned in 1934 and a new modern home was erected the following year. Mr. Kutzke, the purchaser, was employed by Mr. Baldwin on the farm when the former was only 11 years old.

Read The Want Ads

Review, p. 5, col. 6-7, Evansville, Wisconsin

November 9, 1939, Evansville

MARY JEDNEY BRIDE OF ROBERT BALDWIN

Vows are Exchanged Saturday in River Falls at Colorful Church Ceremony

Lighted white tapers encircled the altar banked with white snapdragons and Easter lillies in the Evangelical Lutheran church at Black River Falls at 8 p.m. Saturday for the marriage of Miss Mary Janice Jedney, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. E. S. Jedney, that city to Robert Stephens Baldwin, Sparta, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Baldwin, Madison, former Evansville residents.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. M. Romstad, pastor of the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of white brocaded mousseline de soie, designed with a sweetheart neckline, puffed sleeves, and a rounded train. Her fingertip length veil was designed with a snood, and her bouquet was comprised of gardenias, snapdragons, and swansonias.

The maid of honor, Miss Marian Trondson, Black River Falls, wore a gown of pink brocaded mousseline de soie, designed like that of the bride. A circlet of pearls held her pink tulle head dress in place.

Her flowers were snapdragons and swansonias. Dr. Kenneth M. Stampp, Madison, was the best man, and the ushers were Owen Slauson, Madison, formerly of Evansville, and Michael Finnane, Racine, also a former local resident.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Jedney wore a red grape sheer ensemble with a black and white hat. Mrs. Baldwin watched her son's marriage in a gown of gray crepe. Her accessories were black and white. Both wore corsages of gardenias.

Following the ceremony a reception for 200 guests was held in the Jedney home which was attractively decorated with orange blossoms and sweetpeas.

For her wedding trip to Kentucky, the bride wore a blue costume suit with a natural straw hat. Upon their gates tion is also be

return, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin will be at home at 216 Pine street, Sparta.

The bride, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, has been a case worker with the Sauk County Public Welfare at Baraboo. Mr. Baldwin, who was graduated from the Evansville high school in 1930 and later from the University of Wisconsin, Madison, is a member of Theta Xi, national fraternity. He is engaged in public welfare work at Sparta.

HI.
B

T old first yes
T

rd, nt, ol-
at

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baldwin, Austin, Texas, were here Monday with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cole. Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin are guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baldwin in Chicago.

May 23, 1940, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

JAY B. BALDWIN, 63, CLAIMED BY DEATH

(Continued from page one)

Phil D. Pearsall accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Pearsall. Masonic burial rites were conducted in Maple Hill cemetery by W. P. Fleming with C. M. Jameson, Madison; C. A. Shell, G. E. Booth, and F. H. Haight, Chicago; and M. L. Paulson and J. F. Waddell, this city, as pallbearers.

Mr. Baldwin, son of the late Anson and Eleanor Sawin Baldwin, was born Nov. 16, 1876 on a farm four and one-half miles west of Evansville on Jug Prairie in Union township where he grew to young manhood and attended the Starkweather school.

He later attended the old Evansville seminary after, which he was graduated from the Evansville high school in 1895 and from the University of Wisconsin, Madison, in 1899.

Following his university career, Mr. Baldwin taught in the Reedsburg, Poynette, and Marshall high schools for ten years. He was married to Miss Meta Selle, Poynette, at a ceremony performed there Aug. 21, 1900. Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin came to Evansville to reside eight years later when the former became associated with the Laurel Book company, Chicago, first as a salesman and later as manager. At the time of his death he was president and general manager of the firm.

Prominent in lodge circles, Mr. Baldwin was a thirty-second degree Mason, and a member of the Knights of Pythias and Eastern Star.

Besides a host of friends throughout and Chicago, he is survived

Mrs. J. B. Baldwin, Chicago, returned to Evansville Sunday and is residing in the second floor apartment of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cole at 129 West Liberty street.

September 19, 1940, Evansville

Review, p. 2, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

State of Wisconsin, County Court, Rock County.

In the Matter of the Estate of Jay
B. Baldwin, Deceased.

Letters of Administration having been issued to Meta S. Baldwin in the estate of Jay B. Baldwin, deceased, late of the City of Chicago, Illinois,

Notice is hereby given that all claims against the said Jay B. Baldwin, deceased, late of the City of Chicago, Illinois, must be presented to said County Court at Janesville, in said County, on or before the 16th day of January, 1941, or be barred;
and that all such claims and demands will be examined and adjusted at a term of said Court to be held at the Court House in the City of Janesville, in said County, on Tuesday, the 21st day of January, 1941, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day.

Dated September 16th, 1940.

By Order of the Court,

Harry S. Fox, Judge.

Fred L. Janes, Attorney.

9-19-3t

NOTICE OF HEARING

September 19, 1940, Evansville Review, p. 7, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

December Marriage Just Announced Here

Mrs. J. B. Baldwin, West Church street, this city, announces the marriage of her daughter, Elizabeth, to Richard Donham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace B. Donham, Boston, Mass. The ceremony was performed in the Drake Hotel in Chicago, Wednesday, December 17, 1941.

Mrs. Donham is a graduate of the local high school and the University of Wisconsin. Mr. Donham was graduated from the Harvard University and the Harvard Business school. He is a professor of Business Administration in Northwestern university. Mr. and Mrs. Donham will reside in Winnetka, Ill.

January 15, 1942, The Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. J. B. Baldwin and Mrs. C. J. Pearsall entertained at a pre-nuptial shower for Miss Miriam Fellows at the home of Mrs. Baldwin at 224 West Church Street Monday afternoon.

MARY JEDNEY BRIDE OF ROBERT BALDWIN

Vows are Exchanged Saturday in River Falls at Colorful Church Ceremony

Lighted white tapers encircled the altar banked with white snapdragons and Easter lillies in the Evangelical Lutheran church at Black River Falls at 3 p.m. Saturday for the marriage of Miss Mary Janice Jedney, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. E. S. Jedney, that city to Robert Stephens Baldwin, Sparta, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Baldwin, Madison, former Evansville residents.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. M. Romstad, pastor of the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of white brocaded mousseline de soie, designed with a sweetheart neckline, puffed sleeves, and a rounded train. Her fingertip length veil was designed with a snood, and her bouquet was comprised of gardenias, snapdragons, and swansonia.

The maid of honor, Miss Marian Trondson, Black River Falls, wore a gown of pink brocaded mousseline de soie, designed like that of the bride. A circlet of pearls held her pink tulle head dress in place.

Her flowers were snapdragons and swansonia. Dr. Kenneth M. Stampp, Madison, was the best man, and the ushers were Owen Slauson, Madison, formerly of Evansville, and Michael Finnane, Racine, also a former local resident.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Jedney wore a red grape sheer ensemble with a black and white hat. Mrs. Baldwin watched her son's marriage in a gown of gray crepe. Her accessories were black and white. Both wore corsages of gardenias.

Following the ceremony a reception for 200 guests was held in the Jedney home which was attractively decorated with orange blossoms and sweet-peas.

For her wedding trip to Kentucky, the bride wore a blue costume suit with a natural straw hat. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin will be at home at 216 Pine street, Sparta.

The bride, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, has been a case worker with the Sauk County Public Welfare at Baraboo. Mr. Baldwin, who was graduated from the Evansville high school in 1930 and later from the University of Wisconsin, Madison, is a member of Theta Xi, national fraternity. He is engaged in public welfare work at Sparta.

HI-
B

Th
old first yest
me

April 25, 1940, p. 4, col. 1 & 2,

Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Baldwin, Chicago were weekend guests here of the former's mother, Mrs. J. B. Baldwin. April 30, 1942, p. 5, col.6, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

—V—

Robert Baldwin Is U. S. Navy Officer

Robert Baldwin, Chicago, son of Mrs. J. B. Baldwin, this city, and a former resident, has been commissioned a Lt. (jg) in the navy and left for service at Fort Schuyler, New York, last Saturday.

Lt. Baldwin, who is now president of the Laurel Book company, Chicago, the position formerly held by his father, the late J. B. Baldwin, was graduated from the Evansville high school in 1922 and was later graduated from the university at Austin, Texas.

Mrs. Baldwin, this city, returned to her home here early this week after a two weeks visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. Baldwin in Chicago.

Me
Mr.
the n
at th next per Th
with fee a food by
R. J
Mrs.
Ele
Les
In ville
Car

February 18, 1943, Evansville Review, Evansville,

Wisconsin

Mrs. J. B. Baldwin returned to her home here Friday from a few days stay with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Donham in Chicago.

April 15, 1943, Evansville Review "Local Happenings", p. 5, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

scted ver," some col- that the their it on	—V—	3 1 Ea no G 3
	Mrs. Kendrick Noble, Yonkers, New York and Mrs. R. B. Baldwin, Chicago will arrive here Saturday to spend Easter with their mother, Mrs. J. B. Baldwin. Mrs. Robert Baldwin will meet her husband in Chicago Thursday. He is being transferred from New York to a naval station at Gulfport, Miss.

April 22, 1943, p. 1, col. 5, Evansville Review,

Evansville, Wisconsin

Robert S. Baldwin Enlists In the Navy

—V—

Robert Stephens Baldwin, Sparta, former Evansville resident was sworn into the navy early last week as an ensign and reported for duty at Fort Schuyler, New York City, Wednesday, for an indoctrination course.

Ensign Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Baldwin, now of Madison, has been an assistant director of welfare work in Sparta for more than four years. He was graduated from the Evansville high school in 1930 and later from the University of Wisconsin.

—V—

Wing
Hono

Wing
the Ho ed on mer u Wives club as tions a dedicat
The being fi
er club for the in the States.

April 29, 1943, p. 4, col. 3, Evansville Review, Evansville,

Wisconsin

Mrs. J. B. Baldwin returned home the latter part of last week from a few day's visit with her children in Chicago. She met her son, Lt. Robert Baldwin who was going from Boston to New Orleans, La.

May 6, 1943, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Among those from Evansville who were in Brooklyn Tuesday afternoon to attend the funeral of Mrs. C. I. Baldwin were Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cole, Mrs. J. B. Baldwin, Mrs. C. E. Parkin and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Devine and daughter, Theo.

May 27, 1943, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Naval Officer Tells Of Attack On Convoy

Lt. Robert B. Baldwin, Gives His Experiences When Crossing Atlantic Recently

"I thought we were gone one time," Lt. (jg) Robert B. Baldwin, USNR, of Austin, said with a reminiscent chuckle. "This Focke-Wulf four-motored bomber made a perfect run right over our ship. And then he didn't drop his bombs."

"We could see right up the bomb bay. His releasing gear must have been stuck, because he turned, made a short run, and dropped those bombs on another ship."

The story of two violent air attacks on ships in convoy was told by Lt. Baldwin Friday upon his return to the U. S. naval armed guard center in New Orleans from six months sea duty in the Mediterranean as commander of the navy gun crew on an American Liberty ship. Lt. Baldwin's armed guard crew shot down at least one German bomber during these attacks, he said.

Next Ship Torpedoed

The first raid was made by Nazi torpedo bombers, which swooped low to lay their deadly missiles into the convoy as it passed Algiers, North Africa. Two allied ships were damaged in this attack, and several of the raiders were shot down.

"The Liberty ship next to us in convoy got a torpedo in the engine room, but we got the plane that got him," Baldwin stated emphatically.

"One of the boys in my gun crew got him all alone," he went on. "His 20-millimeter was the only gun firing in the whole convoy. Just after the Nazi launched his torpedo he caught fire and crashed into the water.

"It was a perfect shot. The plane was low and close to us," he said. "I sent in for a commendation for that gunner."

One 'Probable' Hit

Continuing, Lt. Baldwin said "Our three-inch gun laid some bursts up in front of another German flying out ahead of the convoy, but I wouldn't put in a claim for that one, because

(Continued on last page)

Milbr Regis

One tered I sold by Philip is Fayr the co 1940383 Chan steins l The Ho Americ The . try and sin bre Milbr sold a bull to cello.

Chan mal, Ec has be Holsteir ica, Bra

en

Only

Mon- nomi- it was ts will spring uesday.

ers for succeed ng re- B. R. asses- hmond, without oward he first c, who years ng. In , pres- by W test is

Ray esirous succeed didate. ers for three peace ave to t con- ; Max Trebs, e jus-

rkin

served Tues- econd ch 21, Miss

and

Naval Officer Tells Of Attack On Convoy

(Continued from front page)

other ships were firing at him too. That one caught fire and crashed.

The second attack came on Dec. 21 when Baldwin's ship was traveling between Sicily and Crete.

"This one was a little different," the armed guard commander said. "It was high-level bombing at first, with those big four-motored Focke-Wulfs way up there out of range. Then we put out a smoke screen, and they to run in low or divebomb in order to find us. Finally gave up and concentrated on the escorts.

It was during this second raid that Baldwin received his greatest scare.

"One of these Focke-Wulfs picked us out of all the ships, and made a long, perfect run on us. When she didn't drop her bombs, we couldn't believe it for a moment. We thought we were done for sure," he grinned.

Baldwin's Liberty ship visited ports in the Persian gulf, carrying a load of war goods for trans-shipment to embattled Russia.

UT Graduate

The navy officer is the son of Mrs. J. B. Baldwin, W. Church street. His wife, Jean, is living at 2003 Wichita, Austin.

He graduated in 1932 from the University of Texas where he was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. Before entering the navy on Feb. 15, 1943, he was president of the Laurel Book company, publishers of educational books.

He now awaits further assignment as commander of an armed guard gun crew on a merchant ship.

(Continued on last page)

Literary Club Names New Board Members

Mrs. L. P. Eager, Mrs. J. K. P. Porter, and Mrs. Floyd Miller were chosen members of the executive board of the Woman's Literary club at its regular meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. J. Pearsall.

The present officers, who were elected a year ago for two year terms are Mrs. A. M. Winn, president; Mrs. J. B. Baldwin, first vice president; Mrs. L. P. Eager, second vice president; Mrs. A. C. Holmes, recording secretary; Mrs. H. L. Morrison, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. W. M. Bewick, treasurer. The next meeting of the group will be held Monday, Feb. 19.

February 8, 1945, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 3,

Evansville, Wisconsin

ON LEAVE—Naval Lt. Robert Baldwin, son of Mrs. J. B. Baldwin, Evansville, arrived last week from his base at Galveston, Tex., to spend a short leave in Evansville. In service since Feb. 15, 1943, Lt. Baldwin has seen overseas service as gunnery officer aboard a Liberty ship carrying supplies through the Mediterranean sea to our forces in Italy and Africa. As a civilian, Lt. Baldwin was president of the Laurel Book Co. He is a 1932 graduate of the University of Texas, where he was a member of Sigma Phi fraternity.

no date, no paper named, scrapbook of Evansville area obits & news items at Eager Free Public Library, Evansville, Wisconsin berger early this week.

Robert Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Baldwin, has been released from the navy.

L
h

October 18, 1945, Evansville Review, p. 4, Evansville,

Wisconsin

pa- Mrs
Mrs city.
ns- J. Kendrick Noble, Jr., son of Mr. son and Mrs. J. Kendrick Noble, Yonkers, and N. Y., was recently sworn in at the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. He received his appointment in Oct. 1945 and attended Princeton university last year. The cadet is a grandson of Mrs. J. B. Baldwin, Evansville.
His mother, the former Orel Baldwin is a former local resident.

J
C

J
me Se
loc 210
Wi
me

Mrs. Gusto

September 5, 1946, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 2,

Evansville, Wisconsin

Former Evansville Man Dies In Madison

Lewellyn A. Baldwin Succumbs Wednesday Afternoon After Long Illness

Lewellyn A. Baldwin, 83, former local resident, died at his home at 125 West Doty street, Madison, Wednesday afternoon following a long illness.

Funeral services will be held in the Evansville Congregational church at 2:30 p.m. Saturday with the Rev. Grant Clark, of Roscoe, Ill., former local pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Maple Hill cemetery with Floyd Ballard, H. H. Loomis, Leo Decker, Roy Peach and F. S. Lewis acting as pall bearers.

Among Mr. Baldwin's survivors are his wife, son Robert, Fond du Lac, and a granddaughter. He was preceded in death by two brothers, Zala, Madison, and Jay, Chicago.

p h pe
M m
W
"
in te Ra pi pa se w an

he ye cf
of he me
me
of
of

July 17, 1947, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

New trip to renew... points of interest in the West.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Baldwin and son, Robert, left Wednesday for their home in Austin, Tex., after spending some time here as guests of the former's mother, Mrs. J. B. Baldwin.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cole, Evansville,

July 3, 1947, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 3, Evansville,

Wisconsin

by can En
—a me du 1
W ad vic sta ni aff
“(C M bu
so
G
m tr
w p •a i
w
.
f

Mrs. J. B. Baldwin Attends Wedding in Yonkers, N. Y.

Mrs. J. B. Baldwin left last week for Yonkers, N. Y., where she attended the wedding July 11 of her granddaughter Elizabeth Adams Noble to Ensign Jack Rice Turner, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Turner of Austin, Texas.

The ceremony took place in St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church at Yonkers with the Rev. Gerald F. Gilmore officiating, followed by a reception in the Noble home.

The bride, who was graduated last month from Vassar college, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Kendrick Noble, Yonkers, N. Y. Mrs. Noble is the former Orrel Baldwin of Evansville.

Ensign Turner is a recent graduate of the School of Architecture, University of Texas, and a member of DKE fraternity. He and his bride will go to California for their wedding trip after which Mr. Turner will report for active duty at Treasure Island Naval Base Calif.

July 16, 1953, Evansville Review,

Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. J. B. Baldwin spent several days last week with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Donham, at Evanston, Ill.

May 1, 1958, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

THE EVANSVILLE REVIEW

Mrs. J. B. Baldwin accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Richard Donham, Chicago, has returned home from visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kendrick Noble, Younkers, N. Y.

October 8, 1959, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Meta Baldwin

Mrs. Meta Selle Baldwin, 81, died in Evanston, Ill., Monday afternoon after a long illness. She was the widow of the late J. B. Baldwin.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. Kendrick Noble, Bronxville, New York, and Mrs. Richard Donahan, Evanston, Ill., and son Robert, Austin, Texas, four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 3:00 p. m. in the Allen Funeral Home. Burial was in Maple Hill Cemetery.

July 7, 1960, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

