

AGED Brothers—Mr. J. C. Devereux, of Union, hands us the following item cut from a Delaware county (N. Y.) paper. The brothers mentioned are own cousins to Mr. D's father, who is also quite an aged man. He is at present residing with a son-in-law, Mr. Curtis S. Firmin, in Union.

"There are residing in this town, four brothers, whose united age amount to 332 years. They are the Taylor brothers. Wm. Taylor, aged 88, Benijah Taylor, aged 84; Giles Taylor, aged 81; Harry Taylor, 79. They all retain their mental faculties and are among our most respected citizens."

January 1, 1873, Evansville Review

Messrs. Ed. Devereaux and Geo. Bullock have decided to run a creamery and cheese factory at Edgerton this season, making butter from May 1st to July 1st. then cheese until the last two months of the season in which they will make butter again. Both are well posted in this business and will undoubtedly add a good and successful business to our neighboring city.

April 6, 1877, The Enterprise, Evansville, WI

- Mr. Jno. Devereux marketed 20 hogs the other day whose average weight was 454 pounds, and whose united weight was 9050 pounds. We mentioned a week or two since of a large hog brought into town by this man, and several more left of the same sort. These are the 'sorted ones.

February 6, 1878, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

The Regular Baptist society will meet at the residence of Mr. Ed. Deveraux's Thursday eve., Jan. 30th. A way will be provided for all to go who will meet at Mr. Reuben Johnson's promptly at six o'clock. Refreshments will be served.

Jan. 29, 1879, Evansville Review

Mr. Devereux is putting an addition to the curing room of his cheese factory 20 by 26 feet and adding 14 by 22 feet to his working room.

April 16, 1879, Evansville Review, Evansville, WI

The first wagon drawing milk to Deveraux's cheese factory, passed through town Thursday morning, May 1st. We have been told that Mr. Deveraux is to care for the milk of 1,400 cows this season.

May 7, 1879., Evansville Review

Ed. Devereaux's house was struck by lightning Monday night during the shower and set on fire, but they succeeded in quelling the flames before much damage was done. Mr. T. Devereux and wife were quite severely shocked, but soon recovered.

June 11, 1879, Evansville Review, Evansville, WI

Mr. Kirk Firman, of Upper Grove, Iowa, formerly of this place, is visiting relatives and friends in and around Evansville. Mrs. Firman is a sister of Messrs. John and Ed. Devereux.

October 22, 1879, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin bank	WHOLESALE CLOTHING BUSINESS.	ated in have	—A team loaded with milk for Devereux's factory, Monday morning, took fright from a shrill whistle of an engine at the crossing, near the depot, and came up Main street on a clean jump. It shook up the milk cans right lively, but did no material damage to horse or driver.	Rock c for a li lived		Eval

ps.		Hes
tene-	M. C. P. Pullan the assistant	I wa severe

May 5, 1880, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Devereux started up his cheese factory Monday Morning.

May 5, 1880, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Dr. Devereux, of the firm of Anthony & Devereux, of this place leaves for Philadelphia in a few weeks, where he intends taking a five months course in dentistry. His intention is to locate here after finishing his course.

July 21, 1880, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

T. D. Devereux left for Philadelphia on Monday of last week. He goes to attend a course in dentistry.

September 1, 1880, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

The Devereux Cheese Factory shipped from here last week two car loads of cheese, which he had sold to a New York firm. The lot comprised 700 cheese, and was less than one month's run. September 1, 1880, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Our cheese factory will have this year the milk from 1,400 cows. They will make about 350,000 pounds of cheese. Last year they made 265,000 pounds and received the average of 10 1/2 cents per pound. Mr. Ed Devereux is the proprietor.

March 3, 1881, p. 1, Janesville Daily Gazette, "Evansville" news, Janesville, Wisconsin

DIED. At the residence of her son-in-law, Curtis S. Firmin Esq. at Upper Grove. Hancock County, Iowa, April 25, 1881, Mrs. Lydia Devereux; aged 86 years. Mrs. Devereux was mother of Ed. and J. C. Devereux of this town.

Evansville Review, May 4, 1881, Evansville, WI

The Devereaux Cheese Association. They are receiving 23,000 pounds of milk daily, from which they make 35 cheese averaging 65 pounds each. The amount of milk received in June was 694,762 pounds, from which 1,022 cheese were made...

August 1881 TheEnterprise

Mr. Ed. Devereux received quite a severe tusk wound in the side of the leg from a hog he was persuading to go in a different direction from what his porcinesship desired. The wound inflamed, and he had to resort to crutches, for several days, to aid locomotion. He is all right now.

January 18, 1882, Evansville Review

Edward Devereaux to George winter, 42 acres in section 7 of Union. [Note: cannot read amount of sale]

Tuesday, Feb. 7

February 9, 1882, p. 4, Janesville Daily Gazette, Real Estate Transfers.

Mr. Theodore Devereux having recently graduated from the University of Pennsylvania, dental department, has consented to stop at the dental office of Dr. J. E. Anthony a few weeks to assist him in his pressure of business, and will be glad to see all of his old friends who need services in that line.

April 15, 1882, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

The Devereaux Cheese factory is now ready for business.

April 25, 1882, The Enterprise

The Devereaux Cheese Factory is now ready for business, teams are all engaged for regular routes and will commence May 1st.

April 29, 1882, Evansville Review

Mr. Devereux says he is doing all right in his cheese business. He is now, with none of his routes fully opened, making 700 lbs of cheese a day.

May 20, 1882, Evansville Review

Mr. Devereux shipped 112 boxes of cheese to Chicago yesterday. He sold for 10 3/8 cents a pound.

June 3, 1882, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

re
ip ng a il-out or en-of on has

—Devereux Cheese Factory made a shipment of 800 cheese the other day to Chas. Balch, of Chicago, netting the patrons the nice little sum of $3580.33. The price paid was 11 cents per pound. Mr. Devereux is of the opinion that the Creamery business will be an advantage to the cheese business as people can judge between the two, and he thinks the verdict will be on his side and it will require less labor to sustain his factory than though there was comparison.

XX
Eoo
FEl
She
Bra
Oat
Cor
Coi
Ho
E
T

September 2, 1882, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 3

Mr. Devereux will commence drawing lumber in a day or two for a creamery which he intends building near his cheese factory. He says he shall run both branches another year.

November 18, 1882, Evansville Review

Ed Devereaux started a cheese factory in Green County.

February 19, 1886, Evansville Review

Devereux to start up a new cheese enterprise in Albany.

March 19, 1886, Evansville Review

Mr. Devereaux expects to have his cheese factory in Albany, in operation by the 15th of May.

April 9, 1886, Evansville Review

MARRIED. July 15th at the residence of E. Devereux, his son Harry C. and Miss Lulu E. Waterman, Rev. A. J. Hovey resident pastor of the Baptist Church of this place officiating Clergyman. The happy couple took their departure upon the same evening of their marriage to Edgerton where they will make their present home.

July 21, 1888, The Tribune, p. 4, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Claude Devereaux, who has been visiting parents and friends in this place for the past two weeks, returned to Chicago Monday, where he is attending the Chicago College of Dental Surgery.

January 9, 1891, Enterprise, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. E. Devereux and daughter, Mrs. Dixon took their departure Tuesday for Ft. Dodge, Ia., where they spend a few weeks with relatives and friends.

May 20, 1892, Enterprise, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

MARRIED

Married, at the bride's home near this city, on Thursday evening, June 3, 1897, Mr. Arthur A. Snashall and Miss Kittie C. Devereaux. Mr. Snashall is a prosperous druggist of this city, which has been his home from childhood; the bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Devereaux, residing on a farm about two miles west of here. The highly respected couple have our best wishes for their future prosperity and happiness.

June 5, 1897, The Enterprise, p. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

C. C. Devereaux, of Janesville, and C. H. Snashall of this city, were admitted to membership to the Wisconsin Dental Association at their meeting at Janesville, Thursday.

May 9, 1899, The Tribune, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. J. C. Devereaux and wife have been in Milwaukee this week attending the G. A. R. exercises.

May 20, 1899, The Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin

Dr. Harry Devereux of Belmond, Iowa, has been with relatives here this week.

May 20, 1899, The Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mesdames R. Winston, Kate Kling, Ed Devereux and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dixon left for the west Tuesday. They travel in company as far as Ames where Mrs. Winston and daughter go to Kenesaw, Neb. and the others go to Fort Dodge, Iowa.

October 7, 1899, The Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Ed. Devereux who resides with her daughter Mrs. A. E. Dixon is very ill with pneumonia.

December 16, 1899, The Badger, p. 1, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. A. E. Dixon has purchased his wife's old homestead, the Ed Devereaux farm, Mr. Chas. Brooks has rented it and Mr. Dixon and wife will still remain citizens of this place.

March 12, 1901, The Tribune, p. 3, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Wm. Libby has sold his residence on Garfield Ave., to Mr. J. C. Devereaux, possession given next spring. Mr. Libby has purchased a lot directly north of this place, where he expects to build another home for himself.

October 22, 1901, The Tribune, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin an elegant and inviting home on West Main street, erected in 1901. Mr. Barnard is a member of Union Lodge, A. F. & A. M.; of the local lodge of the Knights of Pythias; and of the Modern Woodmen of America. He and his wife are members of the Order of the Eastern Star. Mr. Barnard is a Republican in political sentiment.

DR. CHARLES C. DEVEREAUX is a fine example of the younger generation of Wisconsin's native sons. He is a skilled dentist of Janesville, Rock county, and has come to the practice of his profession trained in the best schools of the country, representing the ripest scientific culture of the times.

Dr. Devereaux was born in Evansville, Wis., Feb. 26, 1868, son of Edward and Eva (Whaley) Devereaux, natives of New York and Ohio, respectively. They were the parents of four sons and four daughters, and six of their children are now living: Theodore E., of Fort Dodge, Iowa; Harry C., of Algona, Iowa; Charles C.; Claude H., of Humboldt, Iowa; Lula B., wife of Albert Dixon, of Evansville, Wis.; and Kittie D., wife of Arthur Snashall, of the same place. The sons are all dentists of high professional character and unusual ability. Edward Devereaux was a cheese and butter maker for many years, and was an early settler in Rock county. The first few years of his residence in Wisconsin were passed in Milwaukee. He moved to Evansville, which city is still his home; his wife died there Dec. 16, 1899. He is a member of the Baptist Church, as was also Mrs. Devereaux. His father, Theodore Devereaux, spent his early life in the State of New York, and died in Iowa, well advanced in years. The Devereaux family was originally French, but has lived many generations in this country, and ranks among the oldest and proudest in New England and New York. The maternal grandfather of the subject of this writing died when a young man. Charles C. Devereaux was reared on the farm near Evansville, attended the public schools, and lived on the farm until he was twenty years old. He selected dentistry as his life work, and went into the office of Dr. Theodore Devereaux, where he studied until 1891. That fall he entered the Haskell Post Graduate Dental College, and completed the course there. He continued with his brother until 1893, in which year he entered the Chicago College of Dental Surgery, and was graduated with honor in the spring of 1896. He resumed practice with his brother at Fort Dodge, Iowa, and remained with him until January, 1898, when he came to Janesville and opened an office, and at once commanded a flattering clientage from among the best people of the city.

Dr. Devereaux is popular in fraternal circles, and is a member of Union Lodge, No. 32, A. F. & A. M.; Evansville Chapter, No. 5, R. A. M.; the A. O. U. W.; the Royal Arcanum; and the Royal League; when at college he joined the Delta Sigma, and retains an active interest in that fraternity, holding his membership in Beta Chapter, and also in the Supreme Chapter. In these various associations his manly and genial character has never failed to command respect and win him warm personal friends. He is an active worker in the Southern Wisconsin Dental Association, where his learning and skill are recognized. In politics he is a Republican.

WILLIAM STEVENS, a retired stock and grain dealer at Evansville, has been identified with the business interests of that region from an early day, and counts a host of friends among the farmers and stock dealers of Rock county. Mr. Stevens was born in Franklin county, N. Y., near Fort Covington, Jan. 10, 1842, a son of William and Mary (McMillan) Stevens, natives of Vermont and New York, respectively. They were the parents of five children, four of whom are now living, David E. and William, of Evansville; Jennie A., wife of A. Van Patten, of Perry, Iowa; and Styles H., of Fort Covington, N. Y. The father, who was a farmer, died in New York in January, 1881, at the age of seventy-five. The mother died in 1877, at the age of seventy; she was a Presbyterian. His father, Ebenezer Stevens, was a native of Vermont, of Scottish and English descent, and was a farmer by occupation. He died in New York at the age of eighty. He was pressed into the war of 1812 as a teamster. David McMillan, the father of Mary McMillan, mentioned above, was of Scottish descent. He was a farmer in Franklin county, N. Y., and was between seventy-five and eighty years of age when he died.

William Stevens was reared on his father's farm in Franklin county, N. Y., where he attended the district school. He remained at Commemorative biographical record of the counties of Rock, Green, Grant, Iowa and Lafayette, Wisconsin, containing biographical sketches of prominent and representative citizens, and of many of the early settled families. J.H. Beers & Co., 1901. 900 p. : port. ; 29 cm.

P. 127.

Dr.'s Harry and Claude Devereaux of Iowa, spent Monday with their sisters, Mrs. Arthur Snashall and Mrs. A. E. Dixon.

May 29, 1902, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

J. C. Devereaux surprised his wife, Tuesday, by having a fine new Emerson piano placed into his home during her absence. The purchase was made from Mrs. Agnes Ware.

April 11, 1903, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mesdames Lula Dixon and Kittie Snashall were called to Algona, Iowa, Wednesday night by the serious illness of their father. A telegraphy message received by A. E. Dixon at noon Friday, stated Mr. Ed. Devereux was dead; the remains were brought here the same evening.

October 8, 1904, Badger, Evansville, WI

Mrs. Arthur Devereux died at her home, three miles west of this city, on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 12, 1905, of inflammation of the bowels.

Lillian Sayles was born Nov. 6, 1870, and was married to Arthur Devereux, June 1, 1902. She has always lived in this vicinity, and was highly respected by all, and a host of friends were deeply grieved by her sudden death.

The Badger, October 14, 1905, Evansville, WI

OBITUARY

Mrs. John C. Devereux.

Mrs. John C. Devereux passed away at her home in this city, Monday afternoon, Feb. 4, 1907, aged 65 years. Last Friday, Mrs. Devereux was suddenly stricken with paralysis, while sitting in a chair, and everything possible was done for her, but she did not gain consciousness.

Miss Phoebe Johns was born in Beaver County, Penn., and on May 28, 1860 was married to John Devereux, a native of New York state; most of their married life was spent on Burr Oaks farm about four miles northwest of Evansville. A few years ago, Mr. Devereux purchased a residence on Garfield Ave., and moved to this city.

Mrs. Devereux was a quiet woman, and one who possessed a wide circle of friends; she cared little for society and devoted her entire time to her family and household duties. She was greatly beloved for her kindly, gentle manners, and for the genuine interest she always took in the sick. Since the death of her son's wife, Mrs. Arthur Devereux (nee Lillian Sayles, she has been a devoted mother to the infant son that was so suddenly left motherless.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Devereux is survived by two daughters and one son: Mrs. John Wall of Union village; Mrs. Truman C. Davis, town of Union and Arthur B., who resides at the parental home. The bereaved relatives have the sympathy of the community in their hour of sorrow.

The funeral services will be held from the residence on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock.

February 8, 1907, Enterprise, Evansville, WI

Devereux, Pheobe was buried on Feb. 6, 1907.

Undertaker's record book (Biglow Undertakers) 1907

J. C. Devereux has purchased the Frank Van Patten residence on First Street. He took possession last week, but the present occupants will remain there for some time yet.

July 18, 1907, Evansville Review

John Devereux is getting to be quite a plunger in real estate especially in city realties. He is now owner of several rental properties in this city.

October 3, 1907, Evansville Review

John Devereaux has bought of W. B. Meggott his house on Main Street known as the old Blakeley house and also his property on Franklin St.

The Janesville Gazette, September 28, 1909

John Devereaux purchased a residence on Main Street and a place on Franklin Street belonging to W. B. Meggott, the new landlord of the Commercial House.

September 29, 1909, Enterprise

John Devereaux is improving from his illness of the past few weeks and is able to be seen down town again.

March 10, 1910, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

—Art Devereaux's little boy fell from a manure-spreader Saturday and fractured his arm. Dr. C. M. Smith, assisted by Mrs. Smith, reduced the fracture and the little fellow is getting along as well as can be expected.

Now comes an eminent M. D.
May 4, 1910, Enterprise & Tribune, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

John Devereaux has sold the house which he owns on Almeron Street to Will Greatsinger who moved into it Thursday.

May 11, 1911, Evansville Review

John Devereaux and his son-in-law and daughter, John Wall and wife, left Tuesday morning for Geneva, N. Y., where Mr. Wall will visit his mother and sister and where Mr. Devereaux will look over the old and familiar scenes of his youth, as that part of New York state was his boyhood home. They are anticipating a fine time, and as Geneva is situated in the garden spot of the state and in the very center of the fruit belt, their expectations are quite likely to be realized, those apples, peaches and pears will not pay their respects to the Wisconsin visitors as their sojourn will not be extended beyond two weeks, probably.

June 15, 1911, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Ida Gertrude Devereux Wall passed away at her home in Union, Thursday afternoon at one-thirty o'clock after a lingering illness of three years. Deceased was sixty years old. She was born at Butts Corners, Nov. 23, 1861. At the age of nineteen she was united in marriage to Mr. John Wall, and had she lived three more days, they would have been married forty-one years.

To this union nine children were born, the first, Fred D., dying when nine years of age; the rest all living; namely, Harley, of Neillsville, Wis.; Leonard of Evansville; Mrs. Daisy Shaver of Evansville; Floyd, Victor and Burton, on farms near Evansville; and Lyle and Pliny at home. Besides her husband she is also survived by one sister, Mrs. T. C. Davis of Janesville; and one brother, Arthur Devereux of Evansville, and eight grandchildren. Mrs. Wall united with the Baptist church at Union about thirty years ago. She was a quiet, home loving woman, who spent most of her time with her children. The early part of her married life was spent on a farm east of Union and later in the village of Union, where the home has been ever since.

The funeral was held, Sunday afternoon at the Union Church at two thirty o'clock, Rev. A. W. Stephens officiating.

Those from out of town attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Davis and daughter of Janesville; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Raemisch of Dane; Mrs. Wilbur Lefeber of Hartland and Harley Wall of Neillsville.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the kind friends and neighbors for the floral offerings, and sympathy in words and deeds in the loss of our Beloved wife and mother.

John Wall and Children.

Union News

On last Thursday, February 16, between the hours of one and two, Mrs. John Wall, after much suffering passed out of this life and went over to the Great Beyond to be with her maker forever. That Mrs. Wall was held in high esteem was testified to by the fact that on Sunday afternoon, the spacious church parlors were filled to overflowing by sorrowing friends who came from far and near to pay their last respects to one who by her kind and loving disposition had endeared herself to all who knew her. Mrs. Wall is "Gone but not forgotten," for the entire community will long remember her as a true and faithful wife, mother and friend.

Truman Davis, wife and family of Janesville, were up to attend Mrs. Wall's funeral, Mrs. Davis is a sister of Mrs. Wall's.

Harley Wall of Neillsville, Wis., is at the parental home.

Harold Turner, wife and family of Stoughton, drove over to attend the funeral of Mrs. John Wall.
February 23, 1922, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

ALVA DEVEREAUX WINS PROMOTION

Washington June 15 -- By showing marked aptitude for his military duties, Alva Sayles Devereaux, of Evansville, Wis. has been promoted to the rank of corporal in the Marine Corps, according to an official list of promotions recently received at Marine Corps headquarters here.

Alva lived at the home of his father, A. B. Devereaux, 234 West Liberty St., Evansville, before he joined the Marine Corps at St. Paul, Minn., in October 1924. In recent months he has been stationed at Parris Island S. C., the large Marine Corps training station.

When certain men of that post were recommended for promotion, recently, Corporal Devereaux was one of the Marines selected.

June 17, 1926, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Review

Alva Devereaux, who has been spending a 20 day furlough with his father, Art Devereaux, left Sunday for Paris Island, S. C., where he is with the U. S. Marines. September 9, 1926, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

ASSUMES BOWLING ALLEY MANAGEMENT

A deal was closed this week whereby Alva Devereaux assumed the management of the Evansville Bowling alleys located above the Baker Smith hardware on East Main street. The alleys have been owned and operated here by the Capitol City Bowling Alley and Resurfacing company of De Forrest, Wis.

January 5, 1933, Evansville Review, p. 8, Evansville, weeks in West Side.

Wisconsin

Alva Devereaux has this week opened an electric shop at his home at 234 West Liberty street and is making a specialty of repairing and rebuilding refrigerators, radios, washing machines, irons, heaters, and other electrical appliances. Further particulars concerning his service will be found in a display advertisement appearing on the Trade-At-Home page in today's Review.

September 12, 1935, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Mary Gibson, city nurse and a recent bride, was guest of honor at a surprise shower given in her home at 500 East Main street last night. She was presented with an attractive gift. The guests were Mrs. Leo Brunsell, Miss Jean Smith, Mrs. W. B. Antes, Mrs. Maurice Bly, Mrs. Burton Janes, Miss Rebecca Porter and Mrs. Alva Devereaux.

January 16, 1936, Evansville Review

WILLARD LAY BUYS GAS STATION HERE

A transaction was completed last Thursday night when Willard Lay purchased the Cities Service Gas station at 10 North Madison street from Fred Kleinsmith and Alva Devereaux who have operated the station for the past several years.

Mr. Lay, who took possession Friday morning, plans to make a specialty of battery and tire repairing, vulcanizing, and general repair work, and will provide delivery service for batteries and tires.

Retired Dentist Dies at Age 82

Dec 12
Dr. T. E. Devereaux
Practiced 53 Years
in Iowa Cities. 1940

Dr. Theodore E. Devereaux, 82, who retired in 1935 after practicing dentistry in Belmont and Fort Dodge, Ia., for 53 years, died in the home of his sister, Mrs. Katherine Snashall, 224 South Main street at 5:10 a. m. Thursday after a long illness.

Dr. Devereaux was born at Union, Wis., April 25, 1858, and most of his boyhood was spent on farms near Evansville. Attending the University of Pennsylvania he was graduated from the dental department in 1882 and began his practice at Belmont, Ia., in 1883 where, three years later, in 1886, he married Luella Knox. With his family he later removed to Fort Dodge, Ia., where he practiced until his retirement in 1935. In failing health he came to Janesville five years ago to make his home with his sister, Mrs. Snashall.

Dr. Devereaux's wife died in 1931 and his oldest son, Claude K. Devereaux, in 1924. He is survived by a son, Clark, who is in the Veterans hospital at Fort Harrison, Mont.; three brothers, Dr. Harry C. Devereaux of Janesville, now retired, also living with Mrs. Snashall; Dr. Charles C. Devereaux, of 469 North Terrace street, Janesville; and Dr. Claude H. Devereaux, San Diego, Calif.; and two sisters, Mrs. Lula B. Dixon, San Diego, Calif., and Mrs. Snashall.

Dr. Devereaux was the oldest of a family of dentists, all three of his brothers following this profession as well as a nephew, Dr. Harold E. Devereaux, Madison. Last September he had the honor of being appointed an accredited delegate representing his graduating class, year of '82, to the bi-centennial celebration ceremonies of the University of Pennsylvania held at Philadelphia, Sept. 20 and 21, but because of his health was not able to attend. Dr. Devereaux was well known throughout professional circles of Iowa where he was rated an expert in certain classes of dental technique.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in the Cutts funeral home, 115 North Jackson street, with the Rev. L. J. Tigner in charge. Burial will be made in Maple Hill cemetery, Evansville, in the spring.

FOR SALE: High-chair, bedroom suite, roll-top desk, oak library table, man's extra heavy overcoat, size 42, woman's gray fur coat, one-wheel automobile trailer, and other articles, all reasonably priced. Inquire of Mrs. Alva Devereaux at 15 West Church Street. Telephone 210.

September 24, 1942, Evansville Review, p. 6, "Additional Classified." Co. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Lifelong Resident Dies Here Tuesday

Death Follows Paralytic Stroke Suffered By Art Devereaux Monday Afternoon

Arthur B. Devereaux, 74, lifelong resident of this locality, died at 5 a.m. Tuesday in his home here on North Madison street, following a stroke-paralysis suffered at 4 p.m. Monday.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow, Friday, in the Roderick funeral home with the Rev. Grant Clark, pastor of the Congregation church officiating. The chapel music will be played by Mrs. C. W. Hazle. Burial will be in Maple Hill cemetery with six nephews, Harley, Burton and Lyle Wall, Stanley and Marshall Davis and Leslie Smith, acting as pall bearers.

Mr. Devereaux, son of the late John and Phoebe Johns Devereaux, was born March 22, 1868, on a farm near Butts Corners, three and one-half miles northwest of Evansville. He spent his youth on the farm and attended the Butts Corners rural school. From 1887 to 1892 he was employed by the Chicago and Northwestern railroad as telegraph operator.

He married Miss Lillian Sayles of this city, June 1, 1902 and following their marriage they resided on

(Continued on last page)

October 1, 1942, Evansville Review

Dr. Claude Devereaux Ashes Interred Here

The ashes of Dr. Claude Devereaux, former Evansville resident, who died in California some time ago, were interred on the family lot in Maple Hill cemetery at 5:30 p.m. Thursday. The graveside service was conducted by the Rev. Grant Lawrence, pastor of the Congregational church. The ashes were accompanied to Evansville by Mrs. Katherine Snashall and other Janesville residents who formerly resided in this area.

Katharine Snashall Succumbs Friday

Evansville Native Is Last of Devereaux Family; All Five Brothers Were Dentists

Mrs. Katherine Snashall, 79, of Janesville and a former Evansville resident, died at 7 p.m. Friday in a Janesville nursing home. In failing health for several months, she fractured her left shoulder in a fall three weeks ago.

The former Katherine Devereaux, daughter of Edward and Laura Whaley Devereaux, was born in Union township Dec. 21, 1873. She was married to Arthur Adams Snashall, Evansville, in Union township June 3, 1897.

Mrs. Snashall was the last of the Devereaux family which comprised her five brothers, all of whom were dentists, and one sister, Mrs. Lulu Dixon.

A member of First Congregational church, she was affiliated with Congregational Guild and Division 5, and also with Eastern Star Study class and Rock County Historical society.

Surviving is one daughter, Mrs. Garbrand Jacobs, Glendale, Calif.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Janesville, the Rev. H. C. Kimmel of the First Congregational church there, officiating. Burial was on the family lot in Maple Hill cemetery, Evansville.

February 12, 1953, Evansville Review

The body of Mrs. Albert Dixon, California, was brought to Evansville for burial at Maple Hill cemetery on Wednesday, May 21.

Lulu Devereau was married to Mr. Albert Dixon, former plant superintendent of the D. E. Wood Butter Co., this city.

Mr and Mrs. Dixon left Evansville and went to Texas, where after a few years Mr. Dixon died. Mrs. Dixon soon left Texas and went to California where she could be near their adopted daughter.

Surviving her is a sister, Mrs. Katherine Snashall, Janesville, May 22, 1947, Evansville Reivew

A son was born last Saturday to Mr. And Mrs. A. S. Devereaux, Kensington, Md., former local residents. Mrs. Devereux was formerly Miss Julia Wichern. The Devereaux family is now comprised of two girls and two boys.

September 2, 1948, Evansville Review

Devereux's listed in Maple Hill Cemetery
In Sawtelle addition to the Maple Hill Cemetery, block 1, lot 9

Lillian Devereux, wife of Arthur	b. 1870	d. October 12, 1905
Arthur B. Devereux	b. 1868	d. December 29, 1942
Phebe Devereux, wife of John	b. 1842	d. Feb. 6, 1907	Tombstone says "Mother"

John C. Devereux	b. 1833	d. October 23, 1919	Tombstone says "Father"
Infant Devereux		d. 1903
Theodore Devereux	b. 1829	d. 1850
Cornelia G. Devereux	b. 1835	d. 1854

Devereaux's listed in Maple Hill Cemetery:

In Mitchell addition to the cemetery, block 3, lot 6

Harry C. Devereaux	b. Feb. 13, 1862	Died November 20, 1942
Clark Devereaux	b. 1899	D. January 16, 1984 served in WWI AND WWII Navy
Clara P. Devereaux	b March 10, 1864	d. March 7, 1865
Mary V. Devereaux	b. June 11, 1854	d. February 2, 1856
Evelyn W. Devereaux, wife of Edward	b. December 29, 1837	d. Dec. 16, 1899
Edward Devereaux	b. August 18, 1830	d. October 6, 1904
Katherine D. Snashall	b. 1873	d. February 6, 1953
Laura A. Devereaux, wife of Claude	b. 1876	d. August 28, 1961
Dr. Claude H. Devereaux	b. 1870	d. 1950
Dr. Theodore E. Devereaux	b. 1858	d. December 12, 1940s