

L. T. PULLEN.

I am now receiving and opening, at the Red Brick Store, formerly occupied by E. W. Nelson & Co.,

AN ENTIRE NEW STOCK

OF Fall & Winter Goods,
OF THE LATEST STYLES & BEST QUALITY.

- Consisting of
- DRY GOODS,
- GROCERIES,
- BOOTS AND SHOES,
- HATS AND CAPS,
- YANKEE NOTIONS,
- CROCKERY, &c., &c.

All of which will be sold as low as the lowest.

I PURCHASE FOR CASH,

can afford, and will engage to sell the THE SAME QUALITY of GOODS as low as they can be bought at retail in this, or any other market.

Shall Not Throw Out Baits to obtain Customers,

BUT HAVE REGULAR UNIFORM PRICES.

SELL TO ALL ALIKE

and hope by fair dealing, and strict attention to business, not only to secure, but to merit a very liberal share of your patronage.

MR. WM. LITTLE,

formerly with Winston & Bennett, will occupy rooms in the North end of the Store, where he Will have the General Supervision of the Tailoring Department.

He hopes to see all his old customers and as many new ones as are desirous to favor him with a call.

All Work Warranted in Every Particular.

Call and see us, Ladies and Gentlemen, let us get acquainted, and we may be mutually benefitted.

L. T. PULLEN.

Evansville, Oct. 1, 1867.

woi
can
can due to i
L. upt
the
and sub rit tax
spe
Be
the tio
wit
to pla
ma
wh
in
in CH
al til all we
me 16
in Tl
wl
an oy
hi
bu
pe
pi
oi ra ci
ir a t
3
8
o
o
a v
d
s f

S
3
3
the lat
ty.
ms.
ors.
rk
W
co.
ter
will kly
at con
res
wn.
00 00 00 00 00 00 00
te.
nok
c a hite
sted
arer
sity.
sity
39

November 20, 1867, Evansville Citizen, p. 1, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

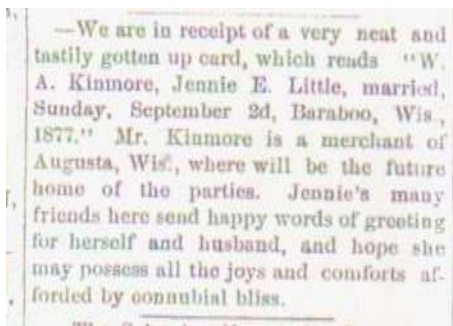

Mr. Wm. Little has been stopping a few days in town. He has sold his house and lot to Mr. Cole, a workman in the Furniture factory.

August 14, 1872, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Little. Died of Scarlet Fever, at Lodi. May 8th, 1874, Charlie W. Little, aged 13 yrs., 7 mos., and 7 days.

Charlie was an active intelligent, beloved, Christian boy. About one year since he united with the M. E. Church, and during his painful illness, despite his intense suffering, songs of praise were often on his lips. Shortly before his death, as we stood by his bedside, he sung for us: "I'm going home to die no more," 'twas his last earth-song; he sunk quietly, without a struggle, into that long, blissful sleep, the one the Father gives his beloved. Home is lonely without the brightest, the youngest -- Our Charlie; our hearts are indeed desolate, and we sadly mourn the loss of one around whom clustered and on whom rested, the idolized hopes of the whole family; but we know our loss is his infinite gain, and we are trying to pray, "Not our will Oh Father, but Thine."
Jennie

May 20, 1874, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

—We are in receipt of a very neat and tastily gotten up card, which reads "W. A. Kinmore, Jennie E. Little, married, Sunday, September 2d, Baraboo, Wis., 1877." Mr. Kinmore is a merchant of Augusta, Wis., where will be the future home of the parties. Jennie's many friends here send happy words of greeting for herself and husband, and hope she may possess all the joys and comforts afforded by connubial bliss.

September 26, 1877, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Will. H. Little of Baraboo, and his young wife, made Evansville and old friends here a visit the past week. He was married the previous week in Madison to Miss Jessie M. Irish, daughter of Rev. J. E. Irish, Presiding Elder of Madison District. They met a hearty welcome everywhere from Mr. Little's old friends and associates.

September 8, 1880, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Oscar Little has sold his horse, buggy, cutter, harness, robes, etc. to Mr. Wm. T. Boyd. Mr. Boyd made a good bargain as usual.

July 3, 1883, Enterprise, p.1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Those who were invited to witness the marriage of Miss Alice Hart, daughter of Mr. George Hart of Chicago, to Mr. Oscar Little, of the town of Union assembled at the residence of the grooms brother, Mr. Wayland Little, who resides about two miles north of Evansville, on Tuesday evening, July 3, 1883, at 8 o'clock. The beautiful and solemn marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. F. F. Barrett, of the Congregational church. The bridesmaid was Miss Gracie Simms, and the groomsman, Mr. Frank Egelston. After the ceremony was performed they received the congratulations of their friends. Supper being announced about seventy guests were seated around the tables loaded with everything that would please the taste of man. The presents were many, and useful and valuable. Everything passed off pleasantly, and the kind wishes of all attended the happy couple in their journey through life.

July 7, 1883, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

The relatives and intimate friends of Miss Alice Heartt and Mr. Oscar Little were pleased to accept an invitation to their wedding, which occurred at Mr. W. F. Little's, Thursday evening, July 3d. At 8 o'clock the bride and groom, accompanied by Miss Grace Sims, bride's maid and Mr. Eggleston, groom's man entered the parlor and were soon made man and wife by Rev. F. F. Barrett. The congratulations that followed were hearty full of good wishes for their future happiness. The supper was truly a wedding feast. Besides the large variety of excellent cakes there were also strawberries, ice cream and other delicacies of the season. The presents were numerous and well selected--more useful than ornamental, though they lacked nothing in that line. "The compliments of the moulders" (Mr. Little's fellow workmen) will long be remembered.

July 10, 1883, Enterprise, p. 1, col. 7, Evansville, Wisconsin

Wm. Libby and family moved into their handsome new residence on the corner of Madison and Liberty streets last week. Oscar Little and wife took possession of the house vacated by Mr. Libby on the corner of 1st and Liberty streets.

August 14, 1883, Enterprise, Evansville, Wisconsin

Some of those who have Dakota fever: Wayland Little has rented his farm to Albert Francisco and expects to visit D. T. in search of land soon.

March 25, 1884, Enterprise, p. 1, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

Our neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Little, moved their household goods last Monday and will board with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Whaley until they can get possession of Mr. L. Clifford's house which they have rented.

March 24, 1885, Enterprise, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Oscar Little, who, for sometime has been employed in the molding department of the Baker Mfg. works, left by his own team for Chicago, where he has obtained a position in the Humanitarian Society.

July 17, 1885, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Oscar Little took her departure last Tuesday morning to join her husband in Chicago.

August 4, 1885, Enterprise, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

DIED. June 26, 1888 Mrs. Sally Little of old age and general debility, aged 82 years. The funeral will be held at her son Waylands home (which has been the deceased home for a number of years) at 2:30 o'clock today. The relatives have been telegraphed for and are expected here this Tuesday evening. The officiating clergyman will be our resident M. E. Pastor L. N. Wheeler. Undertakers Potter & Hartley.

June 30, 1888, The Tribune, Evansville WI

Born. May 11, 1890, Orange Phillip Little to Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Little a fine boy of eleven pounds. All are doing well.

May 13, 1890, The Tribune, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Little of Chicago, Wednesday, July 20th, '92, a daughter, mother and child doing nicely. Mr. Little and family have the congratulations of their many Evansville friends.

July 29, 1892, Enterprise p. 4, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. Wayland little have purchased a farm near Springfield, Mo., and located on it. Mr. Little's health is greatly improved.

July 11, 1896, The Badger, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. R. M. Antes and family have moved into the Morehouse residence on the corner of Liberty and Third Streets and Mr. Little, the tailor occupies the residence vacated by Mr. Antes on First Street which he purchased of Elmer Libby.

March 7, 1902 Enterprise

Mrs. W. H. Little and daughter May went to Baraboo, Wednesday, for a visit with old friends.

August 9, 1902, The Badger, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Wm. Little went to Whitewater Wednesday to attend commencement exercises at the normal. He has a daughter who will graduate there at this time.

June 18, 1903, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Oscar Little passed away Saturday evening last, aged 65.

For many years the deceased has been a sufferer from cancer and many times he has been willing and anxious to sever all ties to this earth. He leaves a wife and son to mourn the loss of a kind husband and father. Funeral held Monday, the Rev. Churm officiating.

February 2, 1905, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wi

Oscar E. Little died at his home in this city, Saturday evening, Jan. 28, 1905, aged 66 years. He had been a great sufferer from cancer for several years past. The deceased was born in Vermont, and in an early day came to Wisconsin. He enlisted in the 22d, Reg. New York Infantry in which he performed an honorable service during the war of '61 to '65. He resided in Chicago about 15 years where he was special agent for the Illinois Humane Society, and on account of poor health removed to this city.

In 1883 he was married to Miss Alice Heartt, who has been most devoted to him during his past years of suffering. Besides his wife, he leaves one son, Orange, and an adopted daughter, Mrs. Clara Tripp, of Kansas.

The funeral services were held from the home, Monday afternoon, under the auspices of the G. A. R. Interment in Maple Hill cemetery. Mrs. Little's brother, Chas. Heartt, and his son, from Chicago were here to attend the funeral.

Feb. 4, 1905, The Badger, Evansville, WI

and	rates on all railroads.
Be-	—W. M. Little and family will	Ed
this	take their departure next week for	the
on	their new home in Baraboo. The	ear
lees	home in this city has been pur-	17,
y to	chased by Frank Van Patten. The	ser
kee,	Little family made many friends	dis
me.	during their stay of six years in	aft
r in	this city and all regret their de-	Th
	parture, but the best wishes of	Gr
	many go with them to their future home.

February 22, 1907, Enterprise, p. 3, col. 6, Evansville,

Wisconsin

Personal War Sketches

T. L. Supphen Post No. 41, Department of Wisconsin

Grand Army of the Republic

Oscar E. Little enlisted May 9, 1861 in Co. A 22nd Regiment N. Y. Vol. Inft. Was accidentally injured by fall off horse, breaking one limb. It not being properly cared for by the unskilled surgeon, as he was, the limb was always troublesome being short and crooked. The date of accident, September 1861. Mustered out of service at Washington D. C. Nov. 18, 1862 for disability.

February 9, 1902, Oscar E. Little by Dr. L. B. Beebe Post Librarian.

Mrs. Julia Mostyn Little died at the home of her son, Wm. Little, at Baraboo, on Friday evening, Jan. 2. The deceased will be remembered by many persons in this city as having lived here many years.

January 8, 1914, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin