

as in ss, or tions,
terus,
sex,

lu

H

stem
tion, diet
lete:
dan-y, all u.

r ex-ever how and more tions

n or ned

ever dis-dily

id of ACT

51 25

NEW FIRM. 1870.

NEW FIRM. ELDRED & MOREHOUSE,

Successors to Humphrey & Eldred.

Keep constantly on hand and will sell very low for cash,

Hardware of all Kinds

A fine stock of

Table and Pocket Cutlery Just Received.

FORKS, RAKES,
SPADES, SHOVELS,
NAILS AND STOVES, TIN,
COPPER AND SHEET IRON WARE
of all kinds on hand and made to order.

Every Variety of Work Performed and Warranted.

Agents for WOOD & EXCELSIOR

REAPERS & MOWERS

Vibrator and several other first class threshers.

HAPGOOD & YOUNG'S P L O W,

the best in the world on which there are great improvements this fall.

Prairie and Grub Breakers, &c. &c. &c.

Give us a call and we are bound to suit you.

ELDRED & MOREHOUSE.
July 1st 1870. n14

aits.
ace ock
ios,
ies,
on,
eb-
A.
ses nry and sig-an.
ers,
rocan ate e of

DISSOLUTION.

THE CO-PARTNERSHIP here-tofore existing between the undersigned A. S. HUMPHRY & F. C. ELDRÉD, in the Hardware business at Evansville, Wis., is this day dissolved by mutual consent, the said Humphry having sold his entire interest therein to C. M. Morehouse of Evansville aforesaid. All therefore who are indebted to the late firm of Humphry & Eldred are requested to call and settle up immediately. The new firm assumes all liabilities of the old.

A. S. HUMPHRY.
F. C. ELDRÉD.

A CO-PARTNERSHIP is this day formed between the undersigned F. C. ELDRÉD & C. M. MOREHOUSE for carrying on the Hardware business at the old stand of Humphry & Eldred. All debts and liabilities of the late firm of Humphry & Eldred are for value received hereby assumed by the undersigned, and all accounts due said firm must be paid to the undersigned without delay.

F. C. ELDRÉD.
C. M. MOREHOUSE,

Dated June 21, 1870. n16t1

Go

On

N
JAN

FINE
C

At Repa
lowest,

EV

Wheat,
"
Oats,
Corn, Corn in Potatoes
Beans

June 29, 1870, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

JOHN B. ALDEN & Co., CHICAGO, ILL

Chattel Mortgage Sale.

By virtue of a Chattel Mortgage executed by Geo. H. Taggart & Lester P. Blackman, to the Glen & Hall Manufacturing Co., of Rochester, New York dated August 20th, 1869, and duly filed in the office of the Town Clerk, of the town of Union, in Rock county, on the 14th day of September, 1869, and renewed as required by the Statute August 20, 1870, and upon which default has been made—I shall sell the property therein mentioned and described viz: "One new Threshing Machine No. 1077, of the said Glen & Hall Manufacturing Company's make—Also one 'Planet' Horse Power for eight horses" (partially worn) at Public Auction at the barn of C. M. Morehouse, (Third Street) in the village of Evansville in said County on Saturday, the 22d day of October instant, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of that day.

The Terms will be made known on said day of Sale.

The GLEN & HALL M'fg Co.

By D. L. MILLS their Ag't and Atty.

Dated October 12, 1870.

The above sale postponed one week, Sat. Oct. 29.

Terms: One yerr's credit with Int. at 10 per ct.

aga
the
the
the De fe an of se
se at sa te si

1, Evansville, Wisconsin

October 19, 1870, Evansville Review, p. 1, col.

Bible Society Meeting,

The Annual Meeting of the American Bible Society was held Sunday evening, at the Methodist Church, and elected the following officers for the present year:

Rev. C. H. Morehouse, President.
 Jacob West, Vice-President.
 Homer Potter, Secretary.
 J. H. West, Treasurer.

LOCAL AGENTS.—Mrs. L. T. Pullen, for the Methodist District; Mrs. Nelson Winston, for the Congregational District; Mr. Joel Smith, Welch District; Mrs. Alice Bishop, for the Bishop District.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Bible and Testaments on hand	$28.54
Purchased during the year	100.40
Total	128.94
Amount sold from Depository	$44.66
Delivered to Local Agents	28.70
Now in Depository	55.58
Total Amt. books sold and donat'd	128.84
Cash on hand at begining of year	$71.20
“ rec'd during year as donations	21.83
Books sold by Treas. and Agents	57.61
Total	$150.64
Cash paid Co. Dep.	$85.35
Cash paid Treasury	65.29
Total	$150.64

J. H. WEST, Treasurer

February 8, 1871, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

NEW FIRM.—The old Hardware Firm of Eldred & Morehouse is dissolved and a new firm erected—Morehouse & Son. They will keep a full stock of general hardware and tinware goods. Read their adv. on last col of this page.

February 15, 1871, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Morehouse & Sons, stoves, hardware, tin and copper, sheet iron ware on hand or made to order. Chicago and Jones' Plow. Old iron and rags taken in exchange for other goods.

July 1, 1871, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin arrived.

—The Evansville Bible Society held its annual meeting last Sabbath evening, and elected Rev. C. M. Morehouse President, Jacob West Vice President, Homer Potter Treasurer and C. H. Wilder Secretary. Mrs. C. K. Landon, Mrs. C. M. Morehouse and Mrs. Geo. H. Palmer, local agents.

The Treasurer reported Bibles sold last year; $80,75; Bibles on hand, $28,60; collections by local agents, $6,20.

Mr. Fellows, the agent, delivered one of the most pungent addresses, at the close of the business meeting, seldom listened to by a Bible meeting audience. His remarks were brief and pointed. No one tired with his subject.

March 26, 1873, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

ON THE MOVE.—Mr. J. R. Finch has arranged to put his large stock of boots and shoes into his own building, to be occupied jointly with Messrs. Morehouse, in the Hardware business. He takes the store, vacated for that purpose, formerly occupied by Mr. Stearns, harness maker. The room will be refitted and everything put in fine style for the boot and shoe trade. Mr. Morehouse has his department rejuvenated. An awning is to be put on in front.

Mr. Stearns is occupying the room, vacated for that purpose, occupied by Mr. Mills as law office. Mills takes a suit of rooms over the Post-office. Carpenters are at work on Mr. Finch's store and will have it ready for business soon as the workman can do it.

We are glad to see business lively; but it is very inconvenient when every place is occupied to crowd in another stand. We actually need a few more business places. There is not an unoccupied room of any description in town, suitable for any kind of business whatever.

The recalcitrant Governors of

May 20, 1874, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Messrs. Morehouse & Son have purchased the Treat Hall building and will fit up the first floor for their hardware trade soon as it is vacated by the Lehman Brothers'.

September 9, 1874, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

MOREHOUSE & SON, Dealers in STOVES, HARDWARE,
 —and—
Pocket Cutlery & Farming Utensils.
 —also—
TIN, COPPER
 —and—
SHEET IRON WARE.
 on hand or made to order.
Chicago and Jones's Plow.
 Warranted to scour in all kinds of soil.
 Old Iron and Rags taken in exchange for other goods. Give us a call.
 Evansville, July 1, 1871.

July 21, 1875, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 4, Evansville,

Wisconsin

—Mr. Morehouse, senior of Morehouse & Son, returned from a re-conoitering tour into Iowa, last week. He made extensive observations from several different points and reports the country, and business of all kinds, to be good. Crops are looking fine, and have promise of a good harvest. Mr. Millspaugh was his compagnion du voyage.

July 5, 1876, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville,

Wisconsin

—Messrs. Millspaugh & Morehouse left for Mechanicsville, Iowa, last Wednesday. They loaded their hardware goods and tinner's fixings into a car, and with themselves as supercargo, set off in high glee. Opening is represented to be first class for the hardware trade.

August 16, 1876, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 2,
Evansville, Wisconsin

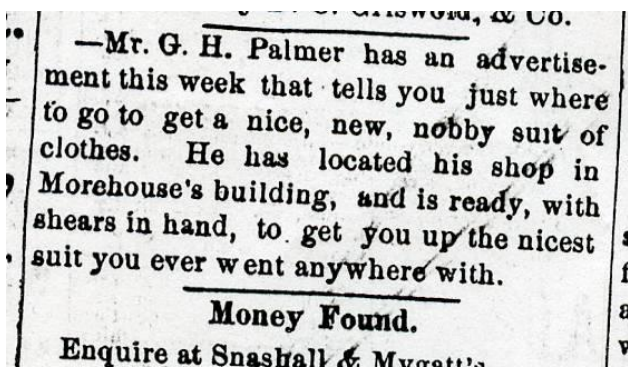

March 14, 1877, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

—Messrs. Millspaugh & Morehouse have sold their hardware business at Mechanicsville, Iowa. The former returns to Evansville, while the latter is engaged as a traveling salesman.

March 6, 1878, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2,

Evansville, Wisconsin

April 9, 1879, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

BAKER & MOULTON.

Hardware, Tinware, Shelf-
ware, Stoves, Agricultural Implements,
Cutlery, &c.

LOOK AT OUR GOODS.

Morehouse Block, Main St., Evansville, Wis.

F. A. BAKER,

E. C. MOULTON.

March 3, 1880, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 6, Evansville, Wisconsin

The Argonauts meet at the residence of Mr. Morehouse, on Monday eve March 22. Subject, "Byron."
March 17, 1880, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Dept. Sheriff Ballard conveyed M. S. Morehouse to the Insane Asylum at Madison, Thursday.
October 6, 1880, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Morehouse has rearranged his hall into very convenient and pleasant tenements. The rooms are large, pleasant, light and airy, suitable and convenient for family residences, and now offers them to rent. Their eligible location to business will meeting with ready applicants.
July 1, 1882, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Joseph Eastman takes the place of Herb Morehouse in the baggage and freight business at the depot. Herb has gone to New Mexico at the request of Geo. Potter, who is in the employ of the Santa Fe company at Socorro, New Mexico.
September 2, 1882, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

The Ladies of the Congregational Society will meet at Mrs. Morehouse's for their sociable, Thursday evening. There will be charades, music and other amusements.
May 8, 1883, Enterprise, p. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

at Y-
so ir is, fo
th ld as ik is no
st

Mr. Merrit Morehouse who travels for a large stove company of Michigan, arrived home last Saturday. He has been in Kas. for some time past, and reports the biggest crops ever known in that country. Wheat averaging 33 bu. per acre throughout the state; Oats, 45 to 50; Corn 60 to 75, and says he saw a stalk of corn which measured 21 feet in length, the ear being 11 foot and 6 inches from the ground, and measuring 14 inches long. This is a pretty big story, but we give our authority and don't doubt it ourselves, as we spent three years in Kansas, and never saw as large corn as grows there.

October 9, 1883, Enterprise, p. 1, col. 7, Evansville, Wisconsin

—Nelson Winston and wife, M. V. Pratt, wife and daughter Edith; J. R. West and C. M. Morehouse and wife, went to Rockford, Tuesday, to attend commencement exercises there, held on the 25th, Mrs. West went on Friday of the previous week. Miss May West and Miss Alice Morehouse belong to the graduating class.

June 27, 1884, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

—Mrs Morehouse returned the latter part of the previous week from a long trip South. She accompanied her husband to southern Kansas and elsewhere, who is engaged in selling stoves for a Chicago house.

Mr. Herbut Morehouse, who has been in New Mexico for some time, returned Wednesday to spend Christmas with parents and friends in Evansville. He remains only a few days.

December 26, 1884, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

H. C. Morehouse, of Socorro, New Mexico, is taking a rest from his duties in the office of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fee railroad, and is visiting parents and sisters in this place.

September 1, 1885, Enterprise, p. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

MARRIED.

MOREHOUSE--BROWN.—At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Brown, on Wednesday morning Sept. 23, at 8 o'clock, by Rev. C. M. Morehouse, of Evansville, Charles Herbert Morehouse of Socorro, New Mexico, and Jessie Brown of Brodhead.

This was one of those joyful occasions in life, when the bitter was mingled with the sweet, for the only daughter, the beloved of the household band was going far away with the chosen one of her heart, and while the blessings of parents and the best wishes of friends went with her, hearts ached with the thought of parting, the long distance that would intervene, and eyes overflowed not with tears of bitter grief but with joy's sweet sorrow. Not alone at home was Miss Jessie beloved, but her winning ways and womanly worth had endeared her to many hearts, while her musical accomplishments has made her a desirable addition to every social circle, and for all these reasons she will be greatly missed. It was an appropriate compliment from the Brodhead Cornet Band, when at daylight they gave the daughter of their leader a most delightful serenade, and for a bridal gift presented her with a beautiful silver and glass berry dish. The wedding was quite informal, only the near relatives of the contracting parties being invited. There were present Rev. C. M. Morehouse, father of the groom, who performed the ceremony, his mother, his sister, Miss Addie, his brother Mr. Merrick Morehouse, wife and child, all of Evansville, and Mr. G. Nash of Rockford, Ill.—Brodhead Ind.

Mr. Morehouse is in the employ of the Wells & Fargo Express Co., and has many friends in Socorro, as was attested by an elegant gold lined, silver water set, sent to him, by the boys around the depot. This was accompanied by an autograph album containing some very excellent lines of poetry but which space forbids us to reproduce here, Mr. Morehouse's man friends in Evansville join in the happy expressions above, and continue thus through life's journey, with assurance of sweet comfort while it may last.

Following is the programme for the

October 2, 1885, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 4, Evansville,

STOVES.—STOVES.—Second hand
 stoves for sale—3 coal, 2 cook, 2 box.
 C. M. MOREHOUSE.

October 16, 1885, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Merritt Morehouse is at home on a fall vacation. Having largely supplied the country with stoves, spends a few weeks at home enjoying fall pippins.

October 30, 1885, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. C. H. Morehouse, who has been spending some time with her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. Browne, near Brodhead, leaves to-day, Tuesday, for her home in Deming, New Mexico. Her brother, Mr. Will Browne accompanied her, and will spend the winter in the south. Mr. Browne will be much missed in Brodhead musical circles being a prominent member of the Silver Cornet Band, and a very fine cornetist.—Brodhead Cor. of Janesville Gazette.

August 19, 1887, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

--Mr. Merritt Morehouse returned home Wednesday, he is traveling Agent for the Detroit stove Co., and his route leads him through Kansas which states he thinks has suffered more from drouth than Wisconsin, there being no prospect of over a one-third crop.

August 27, 1887, The Tribune, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

—Mr. A. H. Day is moving his Bakery into the east half of the Morehouse building recently vacated by this office.

May 28, 1889, The Tribune, p. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

THE SICK.—Frank Gibbs thinks he is improving a little. Saturday he was able to walk out on to the piazza for a short time. Mr Morehouse is no worse, and holds his own with many symptoms in his favor. Mrs Frank, Jr., who was very sick for several days last week, is in a hopeful way of recovery. Mr. Charles Rowley, whose age will reach 92 years in April, lies in a semi conscious condition, and is liable to drop away at any moment.

January 31, 1888, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Merritt Morehouse, returned home Thursday morning to remain for three months or more.

September 22, 1888, The Tribune, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

—Miss Addie Morehouse returned home on Monday last from Minneapolis where she has been teaching the past year. She will spend a few weeks with her parents, and then go abroad for the rest of the summer traveling in Europe with her cousin, Miss Johnson, of Chicago.

May 24, 1892, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Died. At his home in this city Rev. Charles Morehouse, Wednesday, January 20, 1896, aged 81 years.

When the tidings of the death of Mr. Morehouse were spread over our city last Wednesday morning they left sadness in the hearts of the old residents, as this locality had known him as a christian gentleman and good citizen for over thirty years.

The subject of this sketch was born in Charlton, Saratoga Co. New York, October 28, 1814. In 1853 with his family he moved to Wisconsin to take charge of a pastorate, and two years later in 1855, the family came to Evansville, where Mr. Morehouse took charge of the Congregational church society, then in its infancy having at that time but eleven members.

After giving up the charge here the family left Evansville and were away about seven years, when they returned and built the residence which they have since occupied.

Mr. Morehouse was a gentleman of peculiar endowments. At the time of the marriage of their younger daughter, a little over a year ago, Mr. Morehouse memorized the entire marriage ceremony of the Episcopal Church. Up to within the past few days his faculties were perfectly retained, being able to hear and see as well as ever. His illness has been long but his suffering comparatively light.

A widow and four children survive the deceased, all of whom will be present at the funeral which will occur at the Congregational church Sunday afternoon at two o'clock.

The Badger, January 25, 1896, p. 1, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

DIED.

Rev. C. M. Morehouse.

Rev. C. M. Morehouse, aged 80 years, died Wednesday, Jan. 22 1896, at one o'clock, at his residence on corner of Liberty and Third St. Funeral at the Congregational church Sunday, Jan. 26 at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. Scholfield, officiating.

Mr. Morehouse was born in Charlton, Saratoga Co. N. Y. Oct. 28, 1815. He graduated from the Union College at Schenectady, N. Y. and from the theological Seminary at Auburn, N. Y. in 1842. He came to Evansville in 1857, where he has since resided most of the time. For 7 years he was pastor of the Cong. church in this city. When he first took this charge, services were held in the Free Will Baptist church, with only 7 members, but the membership increased so rapidly that soon the Cong. church was built. He was a faithful worker among his people and beloved by all who met him. For the last few years he has been in failing health and for the past 7 weeks has been unable to leave his bed.

He was married to Miss Adeline A. Averill, at Lima, Ind. Sept. 25, 1849. Besides his wife, he leaves 4 children, respectively, Merritt, of Topeka, Kas. Herbert, of Denver, Col. Mrs. Alice Guenther of Sedalia, Mo. and Mrs. Addie Holmes, of Cleveland, Ohio, all of whom will be present at the funeral.

er
an tic tio bal
the
I sta del lyr
M we Mo in for gis fric
N Alt
and T wil imp wis
L soon
A
of Thu
M
last.
ried

[Note: There is a difference of one year in the birth dates reported in the two newspaper obits. Also a difference in the date that he came to Evansville and the number of members of the Congregational church when he arrived.]

W. E. Blanchard has moved from the Mrs. C. M. Morehouse residence on Liberty St., to the
Mrs. Arthur house on Park St.

Evansville Review, Feb. 1898, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Merritt Morehouse of Kansas City, Mo. Spent a few days of the past week calling upon old friends here.
January 13, 1900, The Badger, p. 1 col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. R. M. Antes and family have moved into the Morehouse residence on the corner of Liberty and Third Streets and Mr. Little, the tailor occupies the residence vacated by Mr. Antes on First Street which he purchased of Elmer Libby.

March 7, 1902 Enterprise

MERRITT L. MOREHOUSE.

When the message reached this city announcing the death of Merritt L. Morehouse, it brought sadness to many homes as Mr. Morehouse was a member of one of the most widely known families among the old residents. His father, the late Rev. C. M. Morehouse, was for years pastor of the Congregational church here, and built during his ministry the red brick edifice belonging to that society.

Mr. Morehouse died suddenly, last Wednesday evening of heart failure at Kansas City. The funeral party arrived Sunday at noon and interment followed at once at Maple Hill cemetery, the Rev. E. A. Ralph officiating in a brief service. The pall bearers were from the old-time friends of the deceased: A. C. Gray, L. N. Spencer, C. H. Spencer, Andrew Manning, S. E. Barnard and Geo. L. Pullen.

Mr. Morehouse was the eldest child of the Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Morehouse. He was born in 1852 at Allegan, Mich., but, as he removed to this place with the family when but of four years of age, Evansville has ever seemed his home town.

He was educated at Beloit college and upon concluding his work there he entered the mercantile business, being a member of a hardware firm here.

November 29, 1906, Evansville Review, Evansville, hardware firm here.

In 1875 he was married to Miss Sara Spencer. They made this city their home until 1889 when they removed south, Mr. Morehouse taking a traveling position with a hardware company.

Since that time Topeka, Kas., or Kansas City, Mo. has been their home.

The deceased leaves his wife, one daughter Mrs. Edna M. Durand of Chicago, his mother, two sisters, Mrs. Frederick Guenther of Chicago and Mrs. E. D. Holmes of Albany, N. Y. and brother C. Herbert Morehouse of Denver. All, with the exception of Mrs. Holmes, were among the relatives who were present at the funeral.

Mr. Morehouse leaves behind him the memory of a sunny, genial nature whose genuine kindness

November 29, 1906, Evansville Review, Evansville,

Wisconsin

Mrs. E. D. Holmes, better known as Addie Morehouse, died at her home in Niverville, N. Y., Wednesday, Mach 6. The remains will be brought to Evansville on the 4:40 train Friday and burial will be Saturday afternoon.

March 7, 1918, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

MRS. A. A. MOREHOUSE DIES AT SARASOTA

Word was received in this city yesterday of the death at the home of her son, Herbert Morehouse, of Sarasota, Florida, of Mrs. A. A. Morehouse, for many years a resident of this city, her husband being one of the first pastors of the Congregational church here. The deceased was past ninety years of age.

The burial will take place in Maple Hill cemetery, the body being expected here on the 4:38 train, Friday afternoon, when the body will be taken direct to the cemetery, where a short service will be held, the regular funeral services being held at Sarasota before the shipment of the body.

Her son, Mr. Herbert Morehouse, and daughter, Mrs. Alice Gunther, will accompany the body from Sarasota.

There will be a Basket social at the Jug Prairie School, town of Brooklyn, Friday evening, Oct. 22, 1926, starting at 8:30 o'clock. A very interesting program will be given by the teacher, Miss Esther Chase and pupils. The public is invited to attend.

Patronize Review Advertisers.

October 21, 1926, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 6-7, Evansville, Wisconsin

OBITUARY

Adaline Morehouse

After an illness of seven months, Mrs. Adaline Morehouse died at 12:30 a. m., Saturday, October 16, 1926, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. H. Guenther, in the 96th year of her age.

Mrs. Morehouse was born November 7, 1830 at Genesee County, New York, and during her childhood the family were among the early settlers to follow the trail of the covered wagon in the western emigration. At Limo, Indiana, with brothers and sisters she grew to young womanhood and her marriage to Rev. C. H. Morehouse took place. In the years of her husband's ministry she had lived in different places always leaving lasting influences of a sweet helpful Christian character. With their four children Dr. and Mrs. Morehouse finally settled at Evansville, Wisconsin, where she remained until the death of her husband when Mrs. Morehouse returned to her native state and made her home with her daughter, Mrs. E. D. Holmes. Eight years ago she came to Sarasota and has been a loved and loving member of the home of her daughter, Mrs. Guenther.

Losing her eyesight ten years ago did not lessen her interest in her friends or the activities in which they were engaged. A fall four years ago left her unable to take a step without assistance but in all she was a most patient sufferer and neither infirmities or age had robbed her of a fine mind, a gracious personality or a memory that had retained much of a long life of varied interest. Her birthdays were always occasions for friends to gather at the home of Mrs. Guenther and the dear mother was most lovingly remembered.

Since March she had been confined to her bed and while often it seemed the Silent Messenger must be near so wonderfully would she rally that it was not known except to the family that the end must be near and it was just after midnight when sleeping quietly the "weary wheels of life at last stood still."

Services will be held at the home, after the arrival of Mr. C. H. Morehouse from New York some time Monday. Accompanied by her brother, Mrs. Guenther will take the body of her mother to Evansville, Wis., where they will be joined by grandchildren and other relatives and burial will be at the family cemetery where her husband, her daughter, Mrs. Holmes, and her eldest son are buried. —Sarasota, Florida Herald.

MISS SADIE COPELAND ANSWERS FINAL CALL

Succumbs Here Friday Morning Following 4 Days' Illness; Buried in Albany

Miss Sadie Copeland, one of Evansville's most respected citizens and a milliner here for the past 40 years, died in her home on South Madison street at 7:05 a. m. Friday following a four days' illness of pneumonia.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Sunday in the home, the Rev. Grant V. Clark of the Congregational church officiating. Phil D. Pearsall sang "Abide With Me." Burial was made in the Albany cemetery with Mayor E. H. Libby, R. M. Richmond, R. L. Collins, E. E. Combs, Lou Van Wart, this city; and George Hochstein, Milwaukee, as pallbearers.

Miss Copeland, a daughter of Samuel and Maria Copeland, was born in Orino, Canada, and at the age of five moved with her parents to Monroe, Wis., where she grew to young womanhood. She first became interested in the millinery trade when she accepted a position in 1886 as hat trimmer for Mrs. William Sadler of Evansville.

On coming to Evansville two years later Miss Copeland purchased the millinery shop of Mrs. Sarah Moorehouse at 13 South Madison street and conducted the business until March

(Continued on last page)

T
ope:
ever with Bak
Woo
ed
with crov yet ning thre huz:
part shap ed;
roun gras ting
It
oppe prop ing their batt befo pitch out pitch

WI

P

A
here unde dalit
Prize
ment the e

May 8, 1930, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 5, Evansville,

LOSES RIGHT ARM IN CORN SHREDDER

Lee Barnard Seriously Injured In Accident Yesterday at Lawrence Janes Farm

Lee W. Barnard, local farmer, was seriously injured at 4 p.m. yesterday when he caught his right arm in a corn shredder while at work on the Lawrence Janes farm two miles east of the city. Mangled in the machine, it was necessary to disassemble the shredder before the arm could be released.

Mr. Barnard was immediately rushed to Evansville for medical attention from Dr. C. M. Smith after which he was taken by ambulance to Mercy hospital, Janesville, where the arm was amputated two inches below the elbow in an emergency operation. His condition was reported as satisfactory at 9 o'clock last night following the operation.

Mr. Barnard is a son of Mrs. Guy Barnard, 123 South First street, and a brother of Mrs. Hugh Robinson, this city. He also has a brother, Lloyd Barnard, residing in Janesville. Mr. Barnard is the father of ten children, four sons and six daughters.

October 19, 1933, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 5, Evansville,

r
1. Eugene D. Holmes, Albany, N. Y., 2 who was married here to the late
3 Adaline Morehouse in the Morehouse
4 home on Dec. 24, 1894, called on Ev-
5 ansville friends yesterday. Mr. Holmes 6 was enroute to his winter home at 7 Sarasota, Fla., where Mrs. Alice 8 Morehouse Guenther, former Evans-
9 ville resident, resides. Mrs. Guenther
10 is a sister of the late Adaline More-11 house and daughter of the Rev. and 12 Mrs. C. M. Morehouse who formerly 13 lived here. Mr. Guenther died last 14 January. While in the city Mr. Holmes
15 stated that Herbert Morehouse, a 16 former local resident, died in New 17 York City a year ago. He was general
18 freight agent for the Santa Fe rail-19 road and was at the head of the com-20 pany offices in New York.

21 Mr. and Mrs. George Greenway and

October 26, 1933, Evansville Review, p. 5, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin