

Murrey--Weaver Nuptials.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Weaver, the marriage of their daughter Lulu M. to Jay A. Murrey of Albany, was consummated Sunday evening by Rev. Frank L. Roberts of Prairie du Sac, a classmate of the groom.

The bride was attended by the Misses Vera Baker and Blanche Murrey of Albany, and the groomsmen were Claire Price of Albany, and Lawrence Weaver, brother of the bride.

While the bridal party were taking their proper places, Miss Nora Weaver sang "Blest Be the Tie that Binds," in a most pleasing strain.

After the ceremony, a three-course wedding dinner was served to the guests, all being immediate relatives of the newly-made couple, and the four cousins of the bride, Mesdames Cora Gleason, Fanny Barnum, and Misses Nora and Maude Weaver, performing the serving.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Weaver, and for the past four years has been a most successful and highly respected teacher in the Albany schools. She is a graduate from ...serving.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Weaver, and for the past four years has been a most successful and highly respected teacher in the Albany schools. She is a graduate from the Evansville high school, and also from the Whitewater normal.

The groom is also a normal graduate with the class of 1907, and will make teaching as his profession.

The Review, with many friends, extend their hearty congratulations to the newly-wedded couple and may their married lives be pleasant and as promising as the present forecasts.

---

August 1, 1907, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Jay Murrey, wife and little girl of Brooklyn, were guests of Mrs. Murrey's parents, Amos Weaver and wife, over Sunday