

We understand that Mr. Van Hise, of Milton, has purchased a lot in the Spencer House block, and will commence at once the erection of a store thereon.

May 4, 1870, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

IMPROVEMENT.

The staid march of improvement that sometimes settles down with such pallid weight upon a place or people, and seems to blast all life and ambition, can hardly be true of Evansville, in any stage of its existence.

The rooms that once afforded us the pleasantest office in the county have been merged into one, the ceiling raised and arched, for the purpose of a public hall. To this building another one is in process of erection 30 by 26 feet, in uniform height with the former. This will make the entire length of the building 76 feet long and 24 feet wide.

Adjoining this building is one now being erected, and to be occupied by Mr. Martin Case, as a Livery Stable. The size of the main building is 36x50, 22½ feet high; in the rear of this a barn is already built 28x30 feet, making a total length of 78 feet; by far the largest building in town. It is being sheeted up now but will be venerated later in the season.

In front of our office, on the Spencer House block, workmen are already engaged excavating for Mr. Van Hise store cellar, 22 by 50 feet.

What further improvements our village will receive during the season, time can only determine. We hear that several houses, in different parts of the place, will soon go up.

C
ma
dep
It
ye any of t ere gre
sim
wer
the its
It
plac
nali
in t
Tag
on l erag
wer
er w ente
little pils.
feitu
to was hot abse less gart
well
We
ourse
did

June 8, 1870, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

NOTICE.

The Firm of Winston, Woodbury & Co. is this day dissolved by mutual consent, by Mr. Vanhise withdrawing from the firm.

All persons indebted to the Old Firm are requested to call and settle their accounts as soon as possible.

The Books will be found at the old stand of Winston, Woodbury & Co.

Either member of the old firm is authorized to settle the accounts.

R. Winston. R. F. Woodbury. W. H. Vanhise.
Dec. 21, 1874.

February 2, 1875, Evansville Journal, Evansville,

Wisconsin

Mr. Vanhise goes to Chicago in a few days to lay in his Spring and Summer stock. Mr. Vanhise, by his honorable dealing and genial good nature is making himself a good name and a good business among us. He intends putting into his stock this Spring a fair supply of farming implements and shelf hardware.

March 24, 1875, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Vanhise has just returned from Chicago where he has been to lay in his fall and winter stock of goods. He went with a large purse of greenbacks which he traded for goods and the people of our vicinity may be sure of good bargains at the New Store. "First class goods, small margins, economical management, and good pay," is the motto of Mr. Vanhise.

October 13, 1875, p. 2, col. 4, Evansville,

Wisconsin

Mr. Van Hise, postmaster and merchant of Union called upon us the other day. He speaks of his business as being even better than what he expected before moving there.

November 15, 1876, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Van Hise, post master and merchant of Union, started on a prospecting tour through Nebraska, last Monday night.

May 7, 1879, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. S. Vanhise, postmaster at Union, returned from his Heb. Trip, Wednesday night. He reported plenty of rain in that favored country, and crops are looking well.

May 28, 1879, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

W. H. Vanhise has shipped for New Jersey to visit relatives in that State.

July 30, 1879, The Janesville Daily Gazette, "Union" news, Janesville, Wisconsin

J. H. Davis, of Cooksville, has purchased the store and dwelling house of Mr. W. H. Vanhise at Union. He takes possession the first of April.

February 18, 1880, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Send forward your orders.

ed —Mr. W. H. Vanhise came in Monday dy morning, renewed his subscription and er ordered the REVIEW sent to Minden, Nebraska, for which place he started Monday ld afternoon, by the overland route. He ng. goes with two teams, and Mr. Harry Hos-ilk ley and family occupy the third team.
They expect to be some three weeks making the journey. Mr. Vanhise and his Eu- family have been residents of this town a ing number of years, and they have a good om many friends who accompany them with son choice expressions of gratitude for health and prosperity in their new home.

FURN
Table
Dis
LEE
CO

May 5, 1880, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 4, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Vanhise, son-in-law of Mr. Ring, has been in town several days visiting old friends and acquaintances. He expects to start in a few days on a geological survey in the northern part of the state, where he will remain about three months, his wife remaining with her parents in this place, during his absence.

July 10, 1883, Enterprise, p. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Daniel Johnson is in Nebraska looking up the Van Hise mystery.

July 7, 1885, The Enterprise, Evansville, Wisconsin

Daniel Johnson is in Nebraska looking up the matter of foul play or murder, of Mr. Geo. Van Hise, about which there is a painful mystery. Mr. Vanhise's wife was an adopted daughter of Mr. Wm. H. H. Johnson, but he being in poor health, gets his father, Daniel to go for him.

July 10, 1885, Evansville Review, p. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

—Mr. W. H. Vanhise, one of our old and highly esteemed citizens called upon us Monday morning. He is a resident of Minden, Kearney county, Neb., and one of the proprietors of the Kearny Co. Gazette of that place. Mr. Vanhise is accompanied by his wife who has a sister in Janesville, but will visit a son in Madison while Mr. Vanhise visits his old home in New Jersey.

~~Delicate females, old people and children are~~

May 21, 1886, Evansville Review, p. 4, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. W. H. Van Hise and wife of Minden, Neb., are visiting relatives and friends in this place and vicinity. Mr. Van Hise and family will be well remembered as once being amount our most valued citizens. Mr. V. has been making a visit to his early home in Vermont and takes this opportunity upon his return to stop a few days with Wisconsin friends. We acknowledge a pleasant call this morning.

June 3, 1890. P. 1, col. 4, The Tribune, Evansville, Wisconsin

At a meeting of the executive committee of the university board of regents at Madison, Dr. C. R. Van Hise was elected professor of geology, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Prof. Salisbury.

August 5, 1892, Enterprise, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

---

Evansville Furnishes Our President.

---

Great gratification was felt on the part of our citizens when the midweek papers announced the election of Prof. Charles R. Van Hise as president of the University of Wisconsin.

Dr Van Hise was born on a farm in the town of Fulton and in his boyhood, his parents removing to this city, attended both our High School and Seminary from whence he entered the University, where he distinguished himself in scientific research. He married an Evansville girl, Miss Alice Ring, and Madison has been their permanent home.

Immediately upon his graduation he was elected to instructional work and has steadily won promotion in this state and among the scientific organizations not only of this country but in the world at large.

Dr, Van Hise has ever maintained an interest in our city and its educational institutions. He was one of several of "our old boys" to furnish gratuitously a lecture; the proceeds of which helped to make possible the maintenance of our public free library in its early days of struggle for an existence.

We congratulate our Board of Regents upon the choice of a man who will ever be in close sympathy with the boys and girls of our state who go to Madison for study.

---