

23w4
L. & C. PRESTON.
C a i e
a S

TAKEN UP.—Came into my enclosure, in the Town of Magnolia, about 2 1-2 miles S. W. of Evansville, on or about the 25th day of June 1868, A DARK IRON GRAY MARE COLT, three years old, small size. The owner can have the animal by proving the property, paying the charges and removing.
Evansville, June 28, 1868.
JOHN GREATSINGER.

July 15, 1868, Evansville Citizen, p. 1, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. J. M. Owen has purchased the old "Norton" mills site and water power, near Evansville, of Mr. Greatsinger, and will proceed to erect a custom flouring mill thereon, this season. The site and location is a good one, and it is said to exceed in capacity, the water power at this place.

April 5, 1871, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Southwest of Evansville about two and a half miles at a point where Allen's Creek crosses the Evansville and Albany road, is the site of what was formerly called "Norton's Mill." The mill was created some twenty-five years ago and used when oak timber was plenty, to cut lumber for the early settlers of that whole region adjacent to Evansville, but when railroad facilities reduced the cost of pine lumber and brought it within the scale of modern possibilities, the old millwheels stood still and its busy machinery crumbled into decay. The site subsequently became the property of Mr. J. H. Greatsinger. Early the past season, Mr. Joshua Owen, purchased the water power, including a small portion of land, and commenced the erection of a custom grist mill. About this time Mr. Owen associated with him Mr. Wm. Rice, an experienced mill man.

January 1872, Evansville Review

Review.

JAN. 10, 1872.

Entertainments.

Legislature con-

is good and the enjoy it.

Hall and hear the Albert Andersen violinists in the the Cookeville

Monday for selor.

tz will please ac-copy of his ane mittin'—good ed. Bring along one.

communication
ot to a worthy, lay that made

"Owen's" Mill.

Southwest from Evansville about two and a half miles at a point where Allen's Creek crosses the Evansville and Albany road, is the site of what was formerly called "Norton's" Mill. The mill was erected some twenty-five years ago and used when oak timber was plenty, to cut lumber for the early settlers of the whole region adjacent to Evansville, but when railroad facilities reduced the cost of pine lumber and brought it within the scale of modern possibilities, the old mill wheels stood still and its busy machinery crumbled into decay. Nothing now remains to mark the spot but the line of the old mud dam and some of the floor timbers. The site subsequently became the property of Mr. J. H. Greatsinger, together with its franchises and hereditaments.

Early the past season, Mr. Jonathan Owen, attracted by the feasibility of this opportunity, purchased the water power includ-of this opportunity, purchased the water power, including a small portion of land, and commenced the erection of a custom grist mill. To make the power more servicable a dam was thrown across the creek nearly two hundred rods above the former location and a race extending therefrom to the location of the mill. The cut, most of the way, was through the high bank, involving considerable time and a heavy expense.

The mill building is 30x40 feet, three stories high, above the basement, finished plain and substantially, and painted white. About this time Mr. Owen associated with him Mr. Wm. Rice, an experienced millman, and together, the work was pushed vigorously on. The erection of the building was superintended by Mr. Alexander Hoskins, assisted by Messrs. Preston, York, and others, resident mechanics. The inside work was done by Messrs. Garfield, Morgan, Joclyn, Butterfield, Hoskins, superintended by Mr. Young, of Chicago. The water wheels are the Beloit Turbine, or Hueston wheel. There are two 27½ inch of these,

Jan 10, 11

in pre tw wo
the dep wi sul wo
it sel has I
is a Un scr

qu
A bri exp say any wo ada pro
Fr

There are two 27½ inch of these, which furnish the motive power, under a ten-foot head. The cleansing machinery was purchased of Barnard & Leas, of Moline Ill.

The planning of the mill and superintending the machinery work, was done by Mr. Newton Young, of Chicago, who has no rival for mechanical skill and thoroughness as a millwright in the Northwest. The machinery is from the mill furnishing establishment of John T. Noye, & Son, of Buffalo.

We seldom have witnessed more thoroughness of work or more accuracy of design in any mill in the West than is seen in this one. The rooms are high, giving free range to machinery, and so arranged as to facilitate its operation to the greatest degree.

The mill is supplied with two runs of burrs, and bolt unexcelled for fineness any mill in the county. Connected with the feed run, is also a bolt for buckwheat and all coarser grains.

The mill will be in readiness for flouring in the course of a week; it is now closely driven on coarse

Firs
thir
Th of a Eng
Mor
vers
N plur key atto ranc atto cor
T and key
I is wil cor but too rec
If
"it
M
—
—
w

San Rents Web 1-5 2002 Jan 1

is now closely driven on course grains and corn shelling, for the farmers in that vicinity.

Its ability on fine work will be fully tested by the writer in due time, and accurately reported.

Our visit, for the first time, was made on Thursday last, in company with Mr. Owen and a brother-in-law, Mr. Smiley.

We were surprised to see so fine a looking building, and still more so as we passed through its several departments and saw its complicated machinery adjusted with such neatness and accuracy.

The total cost, up to the present time, will not vary much from $8000.

Its distance from Evansville will form no great obstacle to customer work from this place, but situated in the midst of a productive farming community, will be of great advantage to the settlers in the neighborhood.

Mr. Owen rides down nearly every day, and he will be pleased to take some of our readers over to view the premises. His enterprise for doing so fine a piece of work, is highly commendable, and speaks

Wash officer on M unusu occas minis upon grow grace
Gove new for Fair homi with has of th
T a f mer ceiv of not hav
adv
ca lio be gl

Jan 10, 1872

January 10, 1872, Evansville Review, p. 1, col.

3, Evansville, Wisconsin

We understand Mr. Greatsinger is about to start up the blacksmith business in Evansville. We have three well-established shops here already.

March 26, 1873, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

The millinery establishment of Mrs. Rossiter and Greatsinger was closed out last week, in favor of the "State of Wisconsin."

July 2, 1873, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

An auction at Mr. Greatsinger's near Owen's mill for Saturday, Oct. 19. Another one will be held at the late residence of James Trow, near Albany, Green County, Oct. 21st. Jacob West, Auctioneer.

October 8, 1873, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

City
 in the year in the town of the hall
 of the library in the town
 of the day of the day

—The Patrons have gone into their new hall and got things, comfortably at work, after an elapse of some four or five weeks. Their annual election took place Saturday night with the following result:

- O. W. Gillman, Master.
- Henry Campbell, Overseer.
- Jas. G. Rowley, Steward.
- Harrison Smith, Assistant Steward.
- Bell Sawin, Lady Assistant Steward.
- C. J. Mitchell, Chaplain.
- W. B. Patterson, Lecturer.
- Jas. Montgomery, Treasurer.
- Geo. F. Spencer, Secretary.
- Daniel Greatsinger, Gate Keeper.
- Elnora Allen, Flora.
- Rose Sawin, Ceres.
- Lydia Smith, Pomona.

Religious services will be held December 23, 1874, Evansville Review, p.

1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin (The Patron's of Husbandry was also known as the Grange.)

Dissolution.
 The copartnership heretofore existing between Daniel Greatsinger and I. D. Clifford in the general blacksmithing business, is this day dissolved by mutual consent. Settlement can be made by either parties and all persons indebted to the concern are notified to call and make settlement, by note or cash.
 Evansville, Sept. 5, 1878.
 DANIEL GREATSINGER,
 I. D. CLIFFORD.

I have formed a copartnership in the above business with Albert Francisco, occupying a shop immediately across the street from my old stand, where I shall be glad to see my old customers and all new ones who may favor us with their patronage.
 A. FRANCISCO.
 D. GREATSINGER.
 Evansville, Oct. 5, 1878.

wher
 To do the p not n Las over usin
 Wisc
 fying reader some their the us of all list of useful
 The wont t annual there i coaliti Nation

October 16, 1878, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 5, Evansville,

Wisconsin

Messrs. Greatsinger & Francisco have been ceiling up their blacksmith shop and putting things in order for business and cold weather.

November 27, 1878, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Greatsinger & Francisco are building a blacksmith shop just south of the Grange Store. The boys are doing well, and are said to be good workmen.

June 11, 1879, Citizen-Review, p. 3, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin [note: The Grange Store was at the corner of Maple and East Main where the Night Owl is now, so this shop would have been on Maple Street.]

Messrs. Greatsinger & Francisco are adding 32 feet to the length of their blacksmith shop, making the total extent 72 feet by 22 feet wide. Mr. Casler is occupying a portion as carriage shop to run in connection with the blacksmith business.

May 12, 1880, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Understand that Mr. Haywood intends stocking up the lower market, and making bolognias a specialty. Messrs Greatsinger & Hopkins have leased Mr. Rossiter's marble building to continue their business in. This will give us three meat markets in town.

November 5, 1881, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. I. D. Clifford whiles away his leisure hours with the soul-stirring music of a Decker & Son upright piano, bought of Mrs. Greatsinger, a musical dealer here.

March 10, 1883, The Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Ida Greatsinger nee Ida Patterson, of Oregon, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Patterson, in this place.

July 31, 1883, Enterprise, Evansville, Wisconsin

Married

YARWOOD---Greatsinger---At the parsonage of the M. E. church, Evansville, Wis., Aug 23, '83, by Rev. H. Faville, Mr. Wm. H. Yarwood of Oregon, Wis., to Miss Roxie M. Greatsinger of Brooklyn, Wisconsin.

August 28, 1883, Enterprise,

Mrs. John Greatsinger died on the 27th inst. after ten days of terrible suffering with gangrene, aged 77 years. Mrs. Greatsinger may be better known as Widow Pailer, of Brooklyn, who was married but a short time since.

August 28, 1883, Enterprise p. 1, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin .

West Magnolia News

Mr. Keal Greatsinger's new house is receiving a coat of white paint.

June 10, 1884, The Enterprise, p. 1, col. 7, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Dan Greatsinger, has been quite sick for a few days, but is better at this writing.

January 5, 1889, The Tribune, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Dan Greatsinger, exhibited a very fine stock horse upon our streets yesterday, which was greatly admired by many of our farmers who were attending election.

April 3, 1889, Enterprise, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Milling

Having recently purchased what is known as the Owen Mill, three miles south of Evansville, I am now prepared to grind all kinds of feed on short notice, either for cash at 6 cents per hundred or toll every tenth. Give me a trial.

Frank Greatsinger

Ad in 1890s Tribune, p. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Dan Greatsinger shipped by Carman's overland stage route, to Edgerton, Wednesday morning, a fine shepherd dog, for parties in Bussyville. The price of the dog was $10.

August 5, 1890, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Isaiah Greatsinger to William Kinsey 84 acres, town of Magnolia, $790.

February 3, 1891. Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Miss Lu Montgomery, of Chicago will trim for Mrs. O. J. Greatsinger this season.

April 5, 1892, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Dan Greatsinger of Janesville, who has been visiting relatives and friends in this city for several days, returns to her home tonight.

September 11, 1894, The Tribune

Dan Greatsinger, of Janesville, who has been visiting Evansville relatives and friends returned home Tuesday.

December 21, 1894, The Enterprise, p. 1, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. Frank Greatsinger has purchased a lot on Almerian street and moved his house with Owen's mill upon it.

November 9, 1895, The Badger, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Greatsinger and aunt, Sadie Swan, spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Farnsworth at Dayton.

February 5, 1897, Enterprise, Evansville, Wisconsin

Pearl Greatsinger of Evansville spent the week with her sister, Mrs. Homer Sholts.

"Brooklyn Items", The Enterprise, April 9, 1897, p. 1, col. 7, Evansville, Wisconsin

Geo. Greatsinger is moving from the Evans house on Mill St., to the Hutchinson house on the East side.

April 9, 1897, The Enterprise, p. 1, col. 5 Evansville, Wisconsin

Dan Greatsinger, of Belvidere, Ill., called on relatives and friends in this vicinity, Sunday.

June 5, 1897, The Enterprise, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

In District. No. 8, town of Union, the following scholars have been perfect in attendance for the month ending May 28: Minnie Jones, Rachel Jones, Maud Thomas, Kittie Dawson, John Dawson, Clyde Greatsinger, Watson Reese.

June 5, 1897, The Enterprise, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Hannah Patterson has purchased the Roberts house on East Main St., and is occupying the same, her daughter, Mrs. Greatsinger and family will live with her.

July 31, 1897, The Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin p. 1, col. 4

There will be no meeting at the F. W. Baptist church Sunday, the entire congregation will worship that day at Greatsinger's grove near Owen's mill, carry their lunch and remaining all day. A union service of both Baptist churches will be held at this grove Sunday evening. All are cordially invited.

Friday, August 27, 1897, The Enterprise, Evansville, Wisconsin

Pearl Greatsinger is very ill. She is suffering from a severe attack of the grippe with other complications.

March 4, 1899, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Isaiah Greatsinger at Owen's Mill who has been ill so long is a great sufferer with no hopes of recovery.

April 15, 1899, The Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin

Miss Pearl Greatsinger has been the guest of Miss Mabel Lewis at Brooklyn.

April 8, 1899, The Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin

Died: At her home south of this city, April 14, Mrs. Isaiah Greatsinger, of cancer.

April 15, 1899, The Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Isiah Greatsinger, nee Amelia Bailey, aged about 45 years, died at her home about four miles from this city, Thursday evening, April 13, 1899. She had been a great sufferer for many months with a cancer. She leaves a husband and three sons besides many relatives and friends to mourn her loss. The funeral services were held at the Free Baptist church Sunday afternoon. rev. Miner officiating. Interment was made in the Evansville cemetery.

From the scrapbook of James Ballard, sexton of the Maple Hill Cemetery, Evansville, Wisconsin

Died: At her home in this city, Sunday May 14, Mrs. Belle Greatsinger-Crawford, aged 27 years.

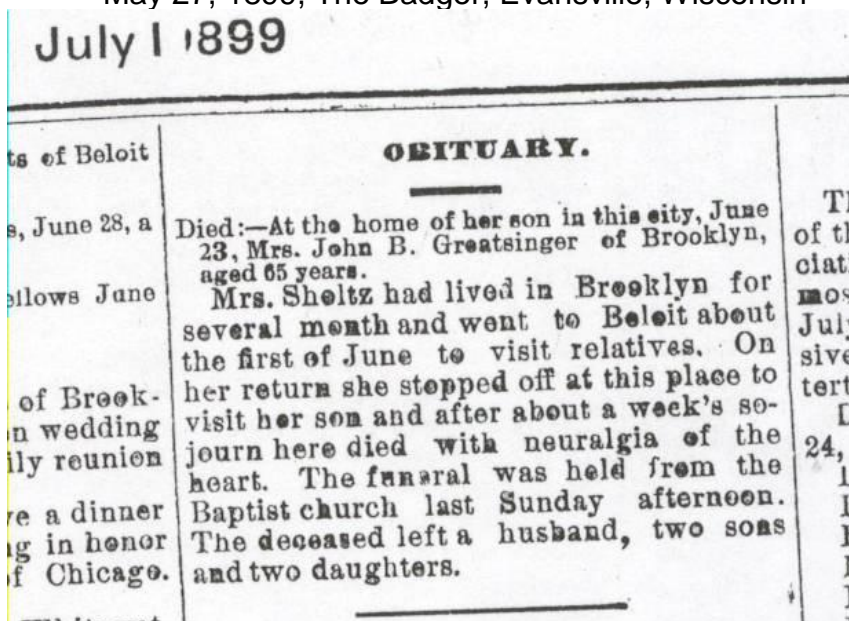

The death of this young woman will be sorely felt as she left besides her parents and a brother, a husband and three small children.

The funeral which was largely attended occurred at the Free Baptist Church, Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Miner officiating.

May 20, 1899, The Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. K. Greatsinger has been very ill with blood poison at her home on Almeron Street.

May 27, 1899, The Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin

Evansville, Wisconsin

July 1, 1899, The Badger, p. 1, col. 4,

Prentice Call and wife, of Beloit, were in the city Monday and Tuesday of this week; they came to make papers transferring their house and lot on Almeron Street to Frank R. Greatsinger.

September 5, 1899, The Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin

Prentice Call and wife of Beloit were in this city and sold their residence on Almeron Street to Frank Greatsinger who took possession at once.

October 7, 1899, The Badger, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Last Saturday morning Mr. Isaiah Greatsinger's house on the Albany road, caught fire from the chimney and burned. Nearly all of the household goods were saved.

October 14, 1899, The Badger, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Ray and Pearl Greatsinger of this city were with friends in Dayton last Sunday.

February 10, 1900, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Married: At the Free Baptist parsonage, by Rev. Mr. Miner, Thursday p.m., March 8, Miss Hattie M. Prucia and Mr. Charles F. Greatsinger.

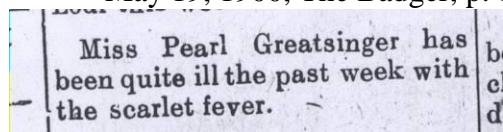

Immediately after the ceremony they started by team for Belleville, Green Co., Wis. They will make their home in the Dennis house on N. Main Street, in this city. Many are the wishes for happiness and prosperity which will go with them.

March 10, 1900, The Badger, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

[Note: North Main Street is now North Fourth Street]

Mr. Frank Greatsinger while at work in the foundry Monday strained his back so that he had to be brought home.

May 19, 1900, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Miss Pearl Greatsinger has been quite ill the past week with the scarlet fever.

May 26, 1900, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Miss Pearl Greatsinger spent the past week with friends at Dayton.

October 13, 1900, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Frank Greatsinger's home on Almeron Street is quarantined for diphtheria.

November 17, 1900, The Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin

Will Smith has sold his residence on the east side to Geo. Greatsinger and is now looking for a house to buy or rent on this side.

March 23, 1901, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Frank Greatsinger and family moved into the residence recently occupied by Mr. Ingalls on East Main Street, this Tuesday morning, which they have purchased.

April 1, 1902, The Tribune, p. 3, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

M. J. Fisher moved April 1st into his new house on 3rd Street. Mr. A. P. Ingalls taking possession of his premises vacated on 2nd St. Frank Greatsinger on the same date into the Ingalls house lately purchased by him and Robert Wallace started city housekeeping in the Greatsinger house on Almeron Street.

April 3, 1902, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Frank Greatsinger is the first lady in the city to draw a beautiful set of dishes, consisting of 56 pieces, with the Avena Breakfast food. This food is sold by the package, at the Economy Store, and in each package is a letter. When one gets letters enough to spell Avena, then the word is presented to Messrs. Langemak & Axtell of the economy and the dishes will be given to the holder of the word. The difficulty is in obtaining the letter V. Every package contains a letter. This is an excellent breakfast food and the prize offered is a beauty.

September 6, 1902, The Badger, p. 1 col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Ray Greatsinger won the first prize in the bicycle race in Belleville.

September 12, 1902, Enterprise, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Last Sunday, while Isaiah Greatsinger and Mrs. Lucy Pomeroy were driving away from T. Greatsinger's on Almeron street, the horse became frightened and ran away. The buggy was overturned, by striking a tree, and the lady was thrown out, receiving bruises and cuts and had the ligaments of her left wrist badly strained. Mr. Greatsinger, who hung to the horse until it struck the tree, was some bruised. The buggy, which belonged to Will Greatsinger and was purchased only a couple of weeks ago, was completely demolished.

September 13, 1902, The Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Greatsinger, of Belleville, were with relatives and friends in this city, Saturday and Sunday.

October 14, 1902, p. 3, col. 5, Tribune, Evansville, Wisconsin

3.	A number from this city expect to leave within a few days for the Mississippi river, to spend the summer in getting clams and pearls. There is a great demand for the shells at button factories. An electric launch has been sent and the balance of the outfit is nearly completed. Among those who will go are the families of Frank and George Greatsinger, Homer Sholtz and Fred Benedict.
----	---

Be Th of an wh for go cre Gr an Ar do th
--

March 21, 1903, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville,

Wisconsin

Fred Benedict, H. Sholts, Frank and Geo. Greatsinger, are going to take a hand in pearl hunting this spring, on the Mississippi.

March 26, 1903, The Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

t Oregon Observer.

A party consisting of Frank and George Greatsinger, Frank Tolles, K. Morgan, Fred Benedict and H. Sholts left Thursday noon for Arena, Wis., thence they go by boat to Prairie du Chien, where they expect to spend the summer pearling in the Mississippi river. Harvey Sykes accompanied them for a few days trip. The ladies will join their husbands at Prairie du Chien in about ten days.

Mr. Tolles were home March relat pres num groo And Oreg in e

March 28, 1903, The Badger, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville,

Wisconsin

Mesdames Frank and George Greatsinger went to Prairie du Chien, Wednesday, to join their husbands, who are in the pearling party that left this city the forepart of last week.

April 4, 1903, The Badger, p. 1, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

U i
A o ist-
E Msw per V
the w m
A M dfe

A poverty social will be held at the residence of Frank Greatsinger on east main street, Friday evening, April 24. Come early to see the parade. Supper served from 7 until all are served. Bring a friend.

MENU

Baked Beans, Brown Bread, Horse Radish
Boiled Eggs.

Coffee Cream Sugar

These will be sold by the farmer and family for prices ranging from 1c to 5c.

April 23, 1903, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Frank Greatsinger and family have returned from their pearling on the Mississippi river; Mrs. Greatsinger had a lot of beautiful shells on exhibition at the fair.

The Tribune, p. 3, col. 3, September 8, 1903, Evansville, Wisconsin

Isaiah Greatsinger received a severe kick in his side from a horse. Dr. Spencer was called who reports no bones broken and the patient recovering as well as could be expected.

October 13, 1903, The Enterprise, p. 3, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Chas. Greatsinger and family have moved to this city from near Belleville.

November 14, 1903, The Badger, p. 5, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Chas Greatsinger and family of Belleville, have become residents of this city.

November 19, 1903, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin

Geo. Greatsinger and family have moved to the Farnsworth farm near Dayton.

March 19, 1904, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Frank Greatsinger and wife have given the building lot adjoining their own to their daughter, Mrs. Milo Halsey. Mr. Halsey will erect a house thereon the coming summer.

March 26, 1904, Badger

OBITUARY.

MR. JOHN B. GREATSINGER.

Mr. John B. Greatsinger expired very suddenly while sitting in a chair, at the home of his son Frank, about 9 o'clock Wednesday evening, April 20, 1904, of neuralgia of the heart. The deceased was born in Ulster county, New York, June 15, 1831, and came to Wisconsin in 1851, locating on Jug Prairie. He was married to Lydia Elvira Gates, Feb. 3, 1853, who preceded him to the better land on June 23, 1899.

He leaves two sons and two daughters; Frank of this city, George who recently moved onto a farm near Dayton, Mesdames Roxy Sholtz of Brooklyn and Ella Brown of Beloit; he also leaves three brothers and three sisters Cornelius, Daniel and Isaiah, Mesdames Kate Wells, Lydia Cnare, all of this city, and Mrs. Mary Hutchins of Dixon, Ill.

Mr. Greatsinger was a kind hearted neighbor, ever ready to lend a helping hand to those in need, and won many friends who extend their sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Mrs. Prucia, who is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. Charles Greatsinger, received the sad news, yesterday that her sister, Mrs. Alice Ross, had been found in bed dead, heart failure being the cause.

June 11, 1904, Badger

Mrs. Frank Greatsinger received a message last Friday announcing the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Chas. Patterson of Sioux Falls, S. Dak., which occurred July 8. Mrs. Patterson, formerly Rosa Marvin resided in the vicinity of Brooklyn for many years previous to her removal to South Dakota, nineteen years ago. Besides a husband, she leaves two sons.

July 16, 1904, Badger

A large family reunion was held at the home of Frank Greatsinger, Thanksgiving.

November 28, 1904, The Badger, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, WI

While hunting deer last week, Homer Sholtz of Brooklyn was shot in the arm; the wound however was not serious and he was able to attend the Greatsinger reunion Thanksgiving.

November 28, 1904, The Badger, p. 1, col. 4, Evansville, WI

A family reunion was held at the home of Frank Greatsinger on Thanksgiving day, which brought together some fifty relatives. It was the largest reunion of any held in this city.

December 1, 1904, Evansville Review

Frank Greatsinger and Milo Halsey transacted business in Beloit, Tuesday and Wednesday.

December 24, 1904, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Frank Greatsinger has purchased the sprinkling business of Messrs. Leonard & Young of Beloit and will soon move to that city.

Jan. 14, 1905, The Badger, Evansville, WI

Frank Greatsinger will move his family to Beloit in the spring. He has purchased the street sprinkling outfit there and will operate same.

January 19, 1905, p. 1, col. 1, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Frank Greatsinger and family and Milo Halsey and wife took their departure, Sunday, for their future home in Beloit, where the gentlemen have purchased the city sprinkling apparatus. The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin, March 11, 1905.

—Geo. Greatsinger and family went to Beloit last week for a visit with Frank Greatsinger and family.

su
M de

May 1905, Badger

Geo. Greatsinger, wife and two children went to Beloit, Tuesday, for a visit at the home of Frank Greatsinger.

June 3, 1905, The Badger

Mrs. Pearl Greatsinger-Halsey of Beloit, spent Monday with relatives and friends in this city. She reports her grandmother, Mrs. Harriet Patterson, no better.

July 15, 1905, Badger, p. 1, col.5, Evansville,

Wisconsin

Mrs. Pearl Greatsinger-Halsey of Beloit, was with relatives and friends in this city a part of last week; she says her grandmother, Mrs. Harriet Patterson, is failing.

July 21, 1905, p. 3, col. 5, Enterprise, Evansville, Wisconsin

August 5, 1905.

OBITUARY.

29, ke, 1st, rk, nd-her ion and s of go, visit row to her re-av-city art-eb.. his ore, his the

Mrs. Harriet Patterson died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ida Greatsinger, in Beloit, Monday, July 31, 1905; death resulting from a fracture of her hip. The remains were brought to this city Wednesday noon, and the funeral services were held at the home of Geo Greatsinger at 2 o'clock, Rev. Parry officiating. Interment in Maple Hill cemetery.

Harriet Van Dusen was born eighty-two years ago; was married to James Nelson Patterson and came to this state in 1846, settling on a farm near Brooklyn. In 1880 they moved to this city, and on May 7, 1890 Mr. Patterson was called to the Home beyond.

To this union four children were born: one having died some years ago. Those left to mourn the loss of mother are, Mrs Ida Greatsinger of Beloit, Leander Patterson of Toledo, and Charles Patterson of South Dakota. The daughter and Leander were present at the funeral; Charles paid a visit to his mother but a few weeks ago.

Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greatsinger of Beloit, were arrivals Saturday evening; Mr. Greatsinger was upon a business trip to Prairie du Chien, while his wife visited with Evansville relatives and friends until Monday evening, when she returned home.

August 18, 1905, Enterprise, p. 3, col. 5, Evansville, Wisconsin

Geo. Greatsinger and wife and Maud Winship were called to Beloit, Wednesday, on account of the critical condition of Milo Halsey.

September 23, 1905, The Badger, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Chas. Greatsinger's team attached to an ice wagon, took a lively run down Madison and Church Streets, Tuesday morning, but was caught near the depot, no damage being done.

September 30, 1905, The Badger, p. 1, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

Frank Greatsinger was up from Beloit, Tuesday, and reported Milo Halsey somewhat improved. Yesterday a report came that Milo was worse and that Mrs. Greatsinger was ill. Evander Blakalay has returned

Frank Greatsinger was up from Beloit Tuesday and reported Milo Halsey somewhat improved. Yesterday a report came that Milo was worse and that Mrs. Greatsinger was ill.
October 7, 1905, The Badger, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin and Daisy Spencer.

Ray Greatsinger of Beloit, was calling on friends Sunday. He reports that his mother, Mrs. Ida Greatsinger, Milo Halsey and Geo. Greatsinger and wife, who have been having a siege of typhoid fever, are improving.

December 16, 1905, The Badger, Evansville, Wisconsin

Frank Greatsinger and wife and Milo Halsey and wife of Beloit, have been attending the Fair and visiting relatives this week.

September 7, 1906, Enterprise, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Hattie Greatsinger and two children have returned from a visit of two weeks with relatives near Oregon.

October 19, 1906, Enterprise, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Charles Greatsinger and children are visiting relatives at Oregon

October 19, 1906, Enterprise, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Ray Greatsinger of Beloit is here rebuilding sidewalks and making other repairs on the Greatsinger property on East Main Street.

May 3, 1907, Enterprise, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

George Bidwell and wife and Kiel Greatsinger and wife expect to leave next Monday for an extended visit in Lincoln, Neb., and vicinity.

November 11, 1908, The Enterprise and The Tribune, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

Kiel Greatsinger and wife and Geo. Bidwell and wife, of this city, leave his week for Lincoln Neb., where they will visit for awhile with relatives and friends. They will be in sight of the home of the great commoner, W. J. Bryan.

November 18, 1908, The Enterprise and The Tribune, p. 1, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

John Devereaux has sold the house which he owns on Almeron Street to Will Greatsinger who moved into it Thursday.

May 11, 1911, Evansville Review

A. C. Moore and Clyde Greatsinger left Monday evening for Chetek, where they will remain for a month recreating and fishing. Others from here will join their party later on.

June 29, 1911, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

Mrs. Dan Greatsinger fell Wednesday at the home of Willard King and broke her right arm. She is doing as well as possible under the circumstances.

July 6, 1911, p. 5, col.4, Evansville, Wisconsin

Old Photo Presents Class of 1912

Here is the Evansville High School Class of 1912, taken when they were Freshmen in 1907. From left to right: (front row) Earl Fellows, Byrl Ahara, Stanley Gillis, Potter Porter, Stanley Perry, and Daryl Patterson. Second row: Willis Miller, Carrol Briggs, Horace Judevine, Robert Antes, Melvin Fursett, Dean Spencer and Everett Van Patten. Third row: Miss North, teacher, Olive Luddington, Shirley Meyers, Grace Hall, Miriam Blakely, Tina Oberg, Gladys Barber, Walter Chapin and Frank Bullard. In the back row: Mary Shrieves, Bell Green, Stella Tiernan, Mathilda Leg. Kathryn Riley, Ethel Van Wart, Ruby Greatsinger, Olive Chapin, Nellie Divine and Minnie Milbrandt. photo courtesy Willis Miller

De
Co pla wi
pla
Mi
Ur

E
A te in Je by K

te

sv
D
L
P

rr ce w tc rr
p

A w

a
J
F
p fr

n
t

September 13, 1979, Evansville Review, p 8, col. 1, Evansville, Wisconsin (Ruby Greatsinger's high school class.)