

Hi,

Ruth! (and Sandi, too!!) Gail Sperry Lindemann has been threatening for months to get me a photo of her grandfather and his siblings, and today she ran into Barb and there/here it is!! The print I have is sharper than the scanned image, but the photo of Fred is the center of my attention. I contend that he (Fred) is the second from the left in the chairs, next to his sister, Blanche. (Compare this picture to the basketball team and the tallest guy next to the coach....don't you see an overwhelming resemblance? And given that there is probably 15-20 years between the pictures (maybe less) they look a lot alike....hair part; ears, nose...stuff like that.) To Blanche's left (right on the photo) is Edgar, father of Gwen Everill and Natalie Kloften. The other three I have no idea about....other than they were Harvey, Lewis and John. One of those last three was the father of Alice Leeder, but I hesitate to ask her in that her parents abandoned her and she was raised by Fred and Martha. She was the daughter of Lewis, but I don't think she ever really knew him.

To Sandi....have you ever seen this picture before? Obviously, Blanche kinda stands out....but do you have any idea who's who of the remaining three? The basketball picture I was referring to is a team picture of the '09-'10 YMCA team that my wife found and gave me for Christmas. On the back Fred had written that it was given to "Granma Wright" "From Fred. Sperry".

Enjoy! Any feedback will be appreciated!!!

I goofed...without my notes at my elbow, I'm basically worthless. There wasn't a brother 'John'...he was William; father of Doris and Lois. Revise!
